Guns Polished for Second Salvo of Campaign

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Aug. 15. (AP)—Herbert Hoover polished his guns today for the second salvo of his campaign for the Presidency and prepared to turn his back upon the Pacific for the long cross-continent journey to Washington.

In the cool quiet of his home stop San Juan Hill, the Republican Presidential nominee spent long hours in putting into final shape the material he will use next week in his West Branch (Iowa) speech.

At that time the candidate is expected to explain in more detail to the people among whom he was born his views on the farm-relief problem.

While he busied himself in preparing for his visit to West Branch, new stops were being added to the itinerary of the journey, which will take him there, six different appearances are planned for Hoover before he finally turns eastward from California.

Leaving Palo Alto early tomorrow night, the candidate will emerge from his train at Santa Barbara at 8 o'clock Friday morning for a drive about the city. He will make a platform appearance at Glendale and will leave the train about 1 o'clock, when it arrives in that city.

Nominee's Cousins Planning to Give Californian Treat During His Visit

WEST BRANCH (Iowa) Aug. 15. (AP)—While scores of workmen are erecting two large tents, placing amplifiers, and making other preparations for the home-coming of Herbert Hoover next Tuesday, Mrs. O. O. Yoder and Mrs. Ralph Bronson, second cousins of the Republican Presidential nominee, are in their kitchens practicing making pies.

For pie is Hoover's favorite pastry, they say, and they are eager to serve their cousin with the best products of their culinary skill. Mr. Hoover is to be a guest in the Yoder and Bronson homes during his visit to West Branch.

Hoover will be greeted by the Mayor and will make a brief address. He then will motor to Long Beach for a short visit with fellow-Iowans.

From that point, he will go to Pasadena and later to San Bernardino, which will mark his last stop in California.

Passing into Arizona, Saturday, he will be joined at Williams by a group of Republican county chairmen for a drive to Grand Canyon.

The candidate himself, however, expects to spend his time in going over with them the Arizona situation instead of in sight-seeing.

The train will move into New Mexico on Sunday, when brief stops will be made at Gallup and Albuquerque, and Monday will pass through Kansas, with stops at Dodge City, Newton, Emporia, Hutchinson and Topeka and Kansas City.

CURTIS'S PLANS

Hoover will not see his running mate, Senator Curtis, at Topeka, however. The Vice-Presidential nominee, after his notification on Saturday, will leave for the East before the arrival of his partner in politics.

Senator Capper of Kansas will join the party at Topeka, and journey with the nominee into Iowa.

Herbert Hoover, son of the nominee, will be hosted by his father and his brother, Allan, upon their arrival in West Branch on next Tuesday morning and they will breakfast at the birthplace of the candidate.

At 7 o'clock that evening, Hoover will make his second pronouncement of the campaign.

There were few visitors at the Hoover home today. With the exception of George Wingfield, Nevada national committeeman, only a few friends of long standing were permitted to interrupt his work.

Among these was Lester Hinesdale of Sacramento, a college-mate of the nominee at Stanford University.

SMOOT PRAISES ACCEPTANCE SPEECH

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15. (Exclusive)—Senator Smoot, chairman of the powerful Senate Committee on Finance, who will have much to do with the economic policy of the government during the next four years, especially with the tariff, issued the following brief statement today praising Herbert Hoover's speech of acceptance:

"Not an equivocation or camouflage can be found in Herbert Hoover's address of acceptance. It was outlined by a master mind and presented in a sound common-sense realistic. The American people reading it will know just what it means, and knowing Herbert Hoover's past marvelous record in America and world affairs, they will make him the next President of the United States."

Senator Smoot particularly approves of Mr. Hoover's statements in regard to the tariff.

Tammanyizing Scheme Fought

FAIRMONT (W. Va.) Aug. 15. (AP) What is described as an effort to "Tammanyize" the Federal government through the selection by the Democrats of a Tammany "sachem" as their Presidential nominee is resented in a plank of the platform adopted by West Virginia Republicans at their State convention here today.

"We resent the effort by the Democratic party to Tammanyize the Federal government and invite all citizens who do not approve of the methods of the Tammany organization, of which the Democratic nominee is a sachem, to join with us in a determined effort to defeat this scheme," says the plank.

MOSES EXPECTS WEIRD ELECTION

Many Surprises Ahead, Says New Englander

Eastern Unruly States to Back Hoover

Middle West Already Safe for Nominee

PORTLAND (Or.) Aug. 15. (AP)—Senator Moses of New Hampshire was interviewed by the city today and told newspaper men, "this is going to be an election of surprises."

Asked to enlarge upon this statement, he said: "Well, it isn't possible for us to carry New York by 1,000,000 votes, nor Illinois by 1,000,000 votes. But some other States by such large majorities, but it isn't the votes in a State that count—it's the votes in the Electoral College, and I'm looking for a large majority in the Electoral College."

"You see," the Senator observed as he took the opportunity to get some exercise while his train stopped for fifteen minutes, "A State may be carried by a very few thousand votes, but they would be enough to capture the electoral vote of that State. Get the idea?"

Moses said he thinks the Middle West is perfectly safe for the Republican candidate. Asked what he thinks about the Solid South, he replied:

"All I know is what the anti-Smith Democrats told us at the conference in San Francisco a few days ago. Now these fellows are against Smith. They aren't Republicans and have no intention of becoming Republicans. They are with us this time, but they have a ticket for this trip only, on this train, and that's all."

"Before the end of the campaign I'm going to try to make the people decide between the two men, Hoover and Smith. They are the issues in this campaign. I want to hold up these two men before the country and show their records, their ability, their fitness—yes, and their character. Let's educate the people as to the record of these two men so the people can judge which is the better for the responsibilities of the Presidency."

He said he means a campaign of personalities, but a campaign of personalities.

FIFTY-NINE ARMY PLANES GO TO SAN DIEGO

MARCH FIELD, RIVERSIDE, Aug. 15. (AP)—Fifty-nine Army planes left here today for San Diego to take part tomorrow in the mass flight over that city of 325 army and navy planes in the "War of Wits" between Lindbergh and Doolittle.

In the group are twenty-nine planes; twenty-eight observation planes, one pursuit plane and one army transport.

LINDBERGH PAYS VISIT TO CHEYENNE

CHEYENNE (Wyo.) Aug. 15. (AP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh paid Cheyenne a surprise visit this afternoon, stopping at the airport for twenty minutes while he had his plane serviced with gas and oil. He left for the West at 2:30 p.m.

SIX GUARD PLANES TAKE OFF FOR SOUTH

Six planes of the Fortieth Division Air Service, California National Guard, took off from the field at Griffith Park, late yesterday to participate in the dedication of the San Diego of Lindbergh Field. Maj. John N. Jeffers, commanding officer of the squadron, is leading the flight.

The planes, representing the State of California, will be the only ones to participate in the maneuvers other than the Army and Navy planes.

The One Hundred and Fifteenth Observation Squadron, Fortieth Division Air Service, is holding its annual encampment at Griffith Park. The squadron, which is the only one of its kind in the State, has been on duty in Los Angeles for the past four years, Los Angeles being the only city in the State to have its own aerial protection.

On each side of the bus are loud-speaking devices which will carry a speaker's voice and musical programs for a quarter of a mile. Two talking machine turntables are carried to revolve phonograph records which will supply musical programs.

The turntables and amplification system are connected so the programs may be broadcast to the assembled crowds.

On the top of the bus at the rear is a platform from which speakers will deliver addresses. A microphone facing the speaker will carry his voice into the loud-speaking apparatus sending it far back into the crowd.

Arrangements are made for setting up the moving-picture projector on the front of the bus, facing the rear, where the screen will be raised.

Test of Sanity Asked for Toral

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 15. (AP)—Aureliano de Leon, brother of Jose de Leon Toral, assassin of Gen. Obregon, has filed a petition with the San Angel court asking that his son be examined by experts in accordance with the psychoanalytic theories of Dr. Sigmund Freud.

He hopes thereby to establish irresponsibility and save the youth from execution by firing squad.

Anti-Smith Democrat to Tour South in Behalf of Republican Nominee

CHICAGO, Aug. 15. (AP)—M. D. Lightfoot of Springfield, Mo., chairman of the national Democratic Hoover-for-President committee, today announced that Robert L. Owen, former Democratic Senator from Oklahoma, will engage in a speaking tour in the South in behalf of Herbert Hoover's candidacy.

Mr. Lightfoot has established a temporary headquarters in Chicago. He also issued a statement saying his organization almost has completed its work in lining up the Hoover Democrats in six Southern States and Washington, adding that in Missouri alone, he has 32,000 pledges. Democrats who will vote for Hoover.

States which he said have been organized include Missouri, Oklahoma, Tennessee, North Carolina, Illinois and Louisiana, in addition to Washington.

RADIO OF DYOTT FAILS IN CRISIS

low-explorer been swallowed up by the same mysterious blankness since May, 1925?

Is Commander Dyott the captive of head-hunters, as happened to him in Brazil before he left his party besieged and in great danger? Or is this long lapse between messages the result merely of a broken-down wireless apparatus?

Authorities with the Indian tribes concede the possibility of a disaster to the expedition, but they consider it most unlikely. They believe the trouble is with the radio. They say there have been no calls for several weeks until further weeks have elapsed without word.

WIFE ANXIOUS

But there is one very anxious person, and that is Commander Dyott's wife, the former Miss Persis Wright, who lives in Merriam, N. Y., and who was married to the explorer just before he started for the jungle.

"I am so afraid that my husband may be up by the Indians," she exclaimed. "So many things could have happened. You see, I had expected to hear from Commander Dyott long before this."

Although Mr. Dyott's radio had been sent direct to her several weeks ago. In it he told of having met Indians through whom he hoped to get a message to Fawcett's fate. He said he expected to get his next message through in about eight days.

Although Mr. Dyott's radio working O.K., he radioed Mrs. Dyott. "But a breakdown is always possible."

Mrs. Dyott is hopeful this may be the explanation. She believes there is a possibility that something is wrong with the generator.

NEAR DISCOVERY

"I could tell by certain parts of my husband's private message to me that he was excited by what he believed he was about to learn," Mrs. Dyott said. "What that was I don't know. But Commander Dyott apparently was certain he was on the verge of an important discovery."

Neither Dr. Isalah Bowman, director of the American Geographical Society, nor William McDonald, an amateur radio expert who has been in close touch with the progress of the Dyott expedition, shares Mrs. Dyott's anxiety.

"It is not remarkable that the commander has not been heard from for a month," said Dr. Bowman. "There could be many reasons in no way involving the safety of the party. True, in that region where Commander Dyott was last heard from, the character of the Indians is not the best. But then, Dyott is a resourceful man. I do not believe he has met with trouble."

Mr. McDonald, whose station is 2TV, Hollis, N. Y., believes Commander Dyott is having trouble with both his radio transmitter and receiver. Bad weather, too, may be interfering with wireless operation.

Mr. McDonald told of the expedition's effort to get a message through two weeks ago.

THEORY VOICED

"The very fact that a general call was sent out 'OQ' is reassuring," explained Mr. McDonald. "If there had been any danger, there would have been an urgent call, 'SO'."

"What happened, I think was this. For some reason the Dyott operator couldn't get into touch with the stations he wanted. So he sent out that general call. But the operator at Rio couldn't get the message. There apparently was something wrong with the transmission."

Mr. McDonald spoke, also, of the belief of the expedition that it was on the verge of important news.

"I chat frequently with the operator at the Rio station, IAW," he said. "The operator is a friend of mine. And he told me that earlier, when he had been in radio touch with William McDonald, Dyott's radio man, Demello had said he expected to have 'big news' soon."

DANIELS SPEAKS HIS MIND ON AL

Many Said to be Waiting for Governor's Speech

Votes Will be Lost Unless Enforcement Pledged

He Doesn't Believe Unrest Will Break South

ALBANY (N. Y.) Aug. 15. (Exclusive)—Joseph Daniels, calling the good ship "Beaucliff," anchored in Al Smith's front parlor this evening, and beneath the roof of the velvet stateroom in the land, proceeded to unload cargo thus:

"The normal Democratic majority in North Carolina is 100,000. If Mr. Smith's speech of acceptance shows a more moist tendency than our people believe in, the majority will be considerably less than 100,000."

"Many people think several States in the South are very doubtful. 'The reason, simply put, is that there are many southern people who are not in the man whom they consider dry.'

"If these people regard Mr. Smith's speech as an honest, sincere declaration of his attitude toward the burning of the League of Nations, then he'll carry North Carolina."

The wartime Secretary of the United States Navy and North Carolina editor was in no timorous mood. He did not ask—as United States Senator Joseph Daniels was asked yesterday after his conference with the nominee—as to be shielded from reporters.

"Far from it. He did not ask to be shielded even from Al Smith. He sat in the arm chair which the Governor had just vacated and with the Governor—for Al Daniels knew within an hour the North Carolinian emphatically reviewed the views on prohibition which he uttered at the Houston convention and which he still holds."

"I said at Houston that while I had, as delegate-at-large from North Carolina, voted for Mr. Hull, I was not in the arm chair which the Governor had just vacated and with the Governor—for Al Daniels knew within an hour the North Carolinian emphatically reviewed the views on prohibition which he uttered at the Houston convention and which he still holds."

MESSAGE REGRETTED

"I said then that I, nevertheless, regretted Mr. Smith's message to the convention after it had nominated Joseph Daniels for the Presidency, which he said part of his duty, if elected President, would be to point the way to such changes in the prohibition laws as would make for better enforcement. I regretted that declaration very much."

"I still regret it. I think the situation. But I am not one of those who regard the message as a repudiation of the platform."

"I think Mr. Daniels, who has not yet seen proofs of the nominee's speech of acceptance, frequently asserted that he will support the decision of many dry southern Democrats to do that hangs on what Smith shall say next Wednesday night in that speech."

WHAT HE THINKS

"However much opposition there is in the South to Mr. Smith—and there is some—it is a great injustice to the people of North Carolina to say that much of that opposition is due to his church affiliations. To be sure there are some who do hold those affiliations against him, but they are in comparatively small minority."

"The bulk of the opposition to him is very dry, and they wish he were. The Governor is not as dry as they wish he were."

"Some of these people are inclined to vote for Mr. Hoover. Others are troubled as to whether they can be consistent with their own dryness and still vote for Mr. Smith; there are the ones who believe that prohibition is the only issue of the campaign. But there are many of us who are dry as dust who do not believe that it is the only issue."

"So far as the decision of the single-issue dries is concerned, everything hangs on what the nominee shall say next Wednesday night. There will be more North Carolinians at the radio than ever there have been to hear a speech of acceptance since the radio was established. Many people think much depends on that speech—and undoubtedly much does."

MUCH UNREST

More than once Mr. Daniels said with an ominous shake of the head: "There is much unrest in the South," but he seemed to feel that the acceptance speech will allay it.

Once he was asked point blank: "Do you think the unrest will break the Solid South?" He replied: "I do not think it will."

By unrest he does not mean economic disturbance, but the unrest in the minds of the scientific persons as to what is the right thing to do in order to obtain effective prohibition.

Mr. Daniels laughed away the thought that Al Smith if elected would nullify prohibition.

"How does the South receive Mr. Hoover's stand on prohibition?" he was asked.

"Mr. Hoover's statement has been disappointing to the people of North Carolina. He is favoring the Eighteenth Amendment, he merely said he does not want to nullify the Eighteenth Amendment."

After this utterance Mr. Daniels went into conference with Gov. Smith.

COL HOUSE SAYS HE HOPES SMITH WINS

WENHAM (Mass.) Aug. 15. (AP)—Col. Edward M. House, adviser to President Wilson during the war years, hopes Gov. Smith will win, but declines to hazard a guess as to how the election will go.

Gov. Smith knows more about government than any man in America," he said. "He is not a lawyer and yet he can debate government."

STORK HOLDS UP WAR MEMORIAL

Work on $6,000,000 Building Halted Week Pending Baby's Arrival

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 15. (Exclusive)—Old Doc Stork stopped work on a $6,000,000 building contract here today. Just as blasting work was begun to clear the site for a war memorial at Van Ness avenue and Franklin street, the proprietress of a near-by apartment-house complained that one of her tenants was expecting the stork in about a week and the visitor wished no reception committee. The contractor agreed to the delay.

Memorial policies with men like Root and Hughes or anybody, and certainly hold his own.

"He is a man of real ability. So indeed, is Hoover, whose sixties are his executive ability and efficiency in organization. It is utterly impossible to tell how the election is going."

Mr. House expressed the belief that the South will support the Democratic nominee. "Yes," he predicted, will go for Smith although he is of the opinion that the Republicans may increase their vote of four years ago.

His visit in Europe has convinced him, Col. House said, that the Kellogg antiwar treaty is the greatest move toward peace since the organization of the League of Nations.

Senator Blaine Attacks Hoover

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 15. (AP)—United States Senator John Blaine, Republican of Wisconsin, today issued a statement charging that Herbert Hoover by his attitude toward alleged corruption is "attempting to hide the outstanding corruptionists of the Harding-Coolidge administration."

"In throwing up a smoke screen charging that corruption has been practiced by individual officials of both political parties in national, State and municipal affairs, he attempts to hide the outstanding corruptionists of the Harding-Coolidge administrations," Senator Blaine said.

Blind Senator to be Neutral

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 15. (AP)—United States Senator Thomas B. Schall, Republican of Minnesota, announced today that he will take no active part in the campaign for Herbert Hoover, the party's nominee for President.

"The blind Senator's decision not to support Hoover is the result of his failure to agree with the Presidential candidate's stand on farm relief. He will support Gov. Smith, the Democratic nominee, either, he said."

BANDITS ROUTED IN GEM FIELDS

Vigilantes Win Victory in South America

Diamond District Scene of Bloody Battles

Uncrowned King Calls Men and Beats Robbers

RIO JANEIRO, Aug. 15. (AP)—Ten thousand vigilantes under Jose Morbeck, who is nicknamed "The Cecil Rhodes of South America," have ended two months of guerrilla warfare in Matto Grosso by driving 200 disgruntled native diamond prospectors across the border of the State of Goyas. Reports of the trouble reaching here tell of fights in the jungle and uplands of the rich diamond field, of night forays, the burning of towns and the wiping out of inhabitants of several communities.

The trouble started when natives found they had been paid in counterfeit money for weeks of prospecting work in the stifling hot jungles. The use of fake money had become a common practice among the irresponsible local adventurers who infest the region and finally the natives decided to wipe out the boss prospectors.

LAWLESS DAYS

A period of lawlessness followed, rivaling the days of old-time American Indian warfare. There was burning of scattered homes and hamlets and massacre of the inhabitants. Individual prospectors were ambushed and robbery and murder were common.

The Governor of Matto Grosso tried to control the situation with State troops, but gave up the attempt after several disastrous engagements.

Then Morbeck, uncrowned king of the district, called on his own adherents. Ten thousand rallied to him while the malcontents centered their cause under the command of a bandit chief known as "Carvalhinho," which is the Portuguese name for the sturdy war.

Morbeck's force was too overwhelming and the bandits' 2000 were driven into the State of Goyas. There they were given asylum and the right to work in the diamond fields of that State after the Governor had disarmed them and exacted promises of peaceful conduct.

TOUGH ELEMENT

The diamond fields of the two States have been the scenes of "wild West" happenings ever since 1918 when a German prospector found the first gems in the Araguaia River region. The adventures of every stripe poured into the fields from all parts of the globe. They were far from transportation or other contacts with civilization and made their own laws, enforcing them in their own way.

If an individual did not like the rules of any one camp he was free to move to another provided his objections were not expressed too forcibly. In that latter case he was given free burial. The prospectors paid natives with counterfeit money grew up among the worst elements of the prospectors.

"EVERY PNEUMATIC TIRE OF OUR MANUFACTURE BEARING OUR NAME AND SERIAL NUMBER IS WARRANTED BY US AGAINST DEFECTS IN MATERIAL AND WORKMANSHIP DURING THE LIFE OF THE TIRE TO THE EXTENT THAT IF ANY TIRE FAILS BECAUSE OF SUCH DEFECT, WE WILL EITHER REPAIR THE TIRE OR MAKE A REASONABLE ALLOWANCE ON THE PURCHASE OF A NEW TIRE."

The manufacturers listed below, who produce over 95% of the tires made in America, guarantee tires bearing their names and serial numbers against defects for the entire life of the tires

Franklin C. Andrews
Director General, THE RUBBER INSTITUTE, Inc.

Those familiar with tire history will remember the early experimental days when the only way a manufacturer could express his confidence in his product was by offering a definite mileage guarantee.

They will recall how, due to misuse, the definite figure inevitably was pushed beyond all sensible bounds.

As tires improved in quality the whole theory and practice of "definite mileage" commitments was pushed into the background and finally rejected by standard tire companies as unfair and uneconomical to the tire-user.

It had proved itself to be fundamentally unsound.

Its abuse by unscrupulous drivers confronted the manufacturer with the alternatives of higher prices or lower quality to meet the added costs of unjustified allowances.

Perhaps its most unfair feature was that it benefited the driver who misused his tires and misrepresented his mileage at the cost of the honest and careful driver who did not abuse his tires.

Its passing was welcomed by trade and public alike because it had come to be used as an unfair sales inducement rather than as a protection for the buyer.

The industry then shifted from the costly advertising of mileage claims to the building of real mileage into the tires.

As a result, tire values have steadily improved, to the benefit of all users alike, although prices are today the lowest in history.

The prevailing practice of these manufacturers, who produce over 95% of the tires in the United States, is expressed by the broadest standard tire guarantee in the history of the industry.

The members of the Rubber Institute, Inc., listed below, warrant tires bearing their names and serial numbers to be free from all defects of material or workmanship.

This warranty is unlimited as to time or mileage, the manufacturer's responsibility continuing throughout the entire life of the tire.

In case of the failure of the tire due to defect, no matter how far or how long that tire has traveled, fair and equitable adjustment will be made by the manufacturer on the basis of the tire's normal expectancy of service had the defect not appeared.

It is the intent and purpose of this warranty to assure the buyer a quality product capable of satisfactory performance, the responsibility for which the manufacturer of the tire hereby assumes.

—a guarantee broader in its protection to the individual, yet fairer in its operation to all, than anything now or ever placed before the public.

SLAVS ATTEMPT TO HEAL BREACH

Move Made to Appease Anger of Croatia

Immunity Lifted From Raditch Plotters

Nettuno Pact Strengthens Home-Rule Demand

BERGRADE (Jugo-Slavia) Aug. 15. (P)—The government, having obtained parliamentary sanction for the Nettuno convention with Italy, is apparently attempting to heal the breach with the Croatian-Democratic opposition. Newspapers in Zagreb, ancient capital of Croatia, however, are charging the government with treachery in the ratification and warn that the breach has been widened. Svetozar Pribitchevitch, president of the Independent Democratic party, said the government has walked over the bodies of such patriots as Stefan Raditch by its action.

CROAT ANGER ALLAYED

The Skupstina (Parliament) passed a measure designed to allay Croat anger when it suspended parliamentary immunity of Deputies Jovanovich and Popovitch. They were accused to have been accomplices in the shooting last June in Parliament of Stefan Raditch, his nephew Paul and four other Deputies. It is expected that the Skupstina will be dissolved in the fall and new general elections held under a government in which the Croats would participate largely. Lusa Davidovitch, leader of the Democratic Peasants' party, will make a move toward reconciliation Sunday, appealing to the Croats to bury the hatchet and return to Parliament when it reassembles in September. If the plan is accepted it is expected that dissolution will follow by royal decree.

FACT GIVES POWER

Pribitchevitch, speaking at the Peasant-Democratic Coalition Club in Zagreb, said that for the Croats the Nettuno pact is as little binding "as any other obligation which the bloody Parliament chose to assume in their absence." Croatian newspapers assert that the pact as ratified, with only the government supporters voting, are worthless because the absence of the Croats and Serbian Agrarians left Parliament without sufficient numbers for legal ratification. Generally it is acknowledged that while the Nettuno convention will give added power to the Croatian demand for home rule it will leave

GIRL GAMBLER FATE FOR LOSS

Red Dice and Poems Reveal Defeat in Struggle to Achieve Career

NEW YORK, Aug. 15. (P)—A pair of red dice with a "seven" up, a few poems and a sheet of paper on which had been typed "the ten commandments of married life" told the police today that Anna Green, 18 years of age, had gambled with a career and lost.

The young woman's body was found in a gas-filled room in Brooklyn last night. Dice and papers lay on a table. There was a pencilled note, too, that read: "I have nothing against anyone. Love to you all, Anna."

Italy without excuse to interfere in Jugo-Slavia's internal crisis.

Speech by Boy Stirs Up Riot

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 15. (P)—Charges of inciting to riot have been lodged against Benjamin Weiss, 14-year-old schoolboy, as a result of the street fight which occurred between members of the "Workers' Communist party," whom he addressed at an open-air meeting and several hundred bystanders. Police were sent to the scene last night when several persons complained that seditious remarks were being made by the speakers. Upon their arrival they heard one of the speakers being heckled by a crowd of unsympathetic hearers. At this point Weiss jumped to the platform and made an impassioned speech that started a riot. The meeting was dispersed and Weiss taken to police headquarters.

MEXICO AUTHORITIES CLOSE MORE CHURCHES

GUANAJUATO (Mex.) Aug. 15. (P)—Ten church buildings which had been allowed to remain open have been ordered closed. The authorities charged that they found that since collected within the buildings were being used to provide insurgents operating in the mountains with arms and ammunition. The asserted diversion of funds was disclosed by a file recently seized during a combat.

CHINA DEFIES JAPAN ON PACT

Nationalists Reported to Insist on Stand

Abrogation of 1896 Treaty to be Demanded

Nanking's Statement Sent on to Embassy

SHANGHAI, Aug. 15. (P)—The Nationalist government has sent a second note to Japan regarding the disputed treaty of 1896. The contents are not revealed officially but it is indicated the note reiterates China's determination to abrogate the pact.

The note was handed to the Japanese Consul at Nanking last night. Today that official transmitted it to the Japanese Minister at Peking.

JAPANESE STAND FIRM ON TREATY ATTITUDE

TOKIO, Aug. 15. (P)—Although the government has not received Nanking's second note on the 1896 treaty, Japanese authorities today reiterated their refusal to listen to Chinese proposals for revision until the Nationalists have acknowledged validity of the existing pact.

Speaking at a cabinet meeting today, Premier Tanaka announced formally his decision to abandon his contemplated plan of issuing a statement reviewing the entire China policy of the government. The Premier said that, owing to postponement of the proposed union of Manchuria with Nanking, peace is insured for the time being in the northern dependency. Therefore he considered that the statement is no longer necessary at this time.

NATIONALIST PARTY EXECUTIVE MEET ENDS

SHANGHAI, Aug. 15. (P)—The fifth plenary session of the executive committee of the Nationalist party, which considered various reconstruction problems of Nationalist China, ended today after a two weeks' session. Although it had been expected that sensational pronouncements regarding ambitious reconstruction projects would be forthcoming, they did not materialize. T. V. Boong, Nationalist Finance Minister, who was one of the delegates, stated that the government does not plan to announce the results of the conference at present, since there are many questions re-

WAR LARD'S MURDER CHARGED TO JAPANESE

PEKING, Aug. 15. (P)—Copy of a sensational statement made by Bertram Lenox Simpson, British author, who returned from Mukden yesterday, asserting that a Japanese secret society murdered Chang Tso-Lin, the Manchurian war lord, has been handed by Simpson to M. Yoshizawa, the Japanese Minister here. Mr. Simpson, who writes under the nom de plume of "Putnam Waile," described himself as an adviser to the late war lord. His statement includes assertions concerning Japanese designs on Manchuria, declaring that the controversy between Mukden and Japan centers on the railway question and masks a struggle over the railways which the Chinese have built and are building in Manchuria.

Lost Canadian Nearly Starves

THE PAS (Man.) Aug. 15. (P)—Weak and emaciated, Andy Taylor, local prospector, is recovering here today from the hardships he suffered while lost for forty-eight days in the dense wooded country north of The Pas.

Frogs and dead fish found floating on the surface of the river formed part of his diet during his weeks of aimless wandering in the virtually untracked wilderness. He was found by searchers near Burnt Wood Lake and taken by airplane to The Pas. He was scarcely strong enough to tell his rescuers the story of his helpless search for traces of human life.

MONROE QUERY STUMPS LEAGUE

Costa Rica Asks Statement on Doctrine

Interpretation by Council to be Avoided

Re-entry Into Membership Based on Request

GENEVA, Aug. 15. (P)—The Central American republic of Costa Rica wants the League of Nations to interpret the Monroe Doctrine before deciding whether to accept or reject an invitation from the League Council to resume league membership.

Costa Rica has incorporated this request in an official communication to the Council, an action which has caused a sensation among those cognizant of the letter.

NO AUTHORITY SEEN

It is understood that the Council probably will avoid making any interpretation of the Monroe Doctrine on the belief it has no authority to go into this question and simply will reply to Costa Rica that its communication has been circulated to all members of the League. An assembly discussion of the Monroe Doctrine, however, is now deemed a possibility.

ARGENTINE RAISES QUESTION

Article XXI of the covenant says that nothing in the covenant shall be regarded as affecting the validity of international engagements such as treaties of arbitration or regional understandings like the Monroe Doctrine for obtaining the maintenance of peace. The question of the Monroe Doctrine was raised at the recent session of the preparatory disarmament commission by the Argentine delegate.

Costa Rica resigned from the League more than two years ago and was urged by the Council to reconsider its decision at the same time that the Council addressed letters to Spain and Brazil voicing the hope that they would remain members of the League. Spain accepted the overture, but Brazil did not.

BYRD TRIP COST TO SET RECORD

Expenses of Antarctic Jaunt May Total $1,000,000
Outlay of $855,000 Figured as Minimum Amount
Contributions Listed to Date Aggregate $672,543

NEW YORK, Aug. 15. (AP)—The Antarctic expedition of Commander Richard E. Byrd, which starts from this port next week, will be the most stupendous expedition in the history of exploration and may cost $1,000,000.

At the expedition's headquarters at the Hotel Baltimore it was said the cost will be not less than $855,000 and, before the expedition returns to this country, may reach $1,000,000.

Contributions received to date include $435,000 worth of equipment and $237,543 cash. Costs to be met by the expedition amount so far to $343,000.

The total expense of Commander Byrd's North Pole expedition in 1926 was $140,000.

The largest single item in the expedition's expense account will be the salaries of the twenty-six men, comprising the crew and scientists.

For the two-year period this will total $90,000. The next highest expenditure is for two airplanes and spare parts costing $70,000, and two ships, one of which cost $40,000 and the other $34,000.

Two airplanes, two motor launches, scientific equipment and food have been donated.

GENEVA UPLIFTS WORLD'S YOUTH

Peace Envoys of California Colleges Get Stimulus
Will Go on to Holland for International Session
Young Delegate Writes That Much Good Will Result

BY KENNETH ROBINSON
Caltech Delegate to the Youth Peace Congress
GENEVA, July 28. (Correspondence)—Geneva has been a city of surprises for the three delegates from Southern California who have been here for the past week, and who go on to the Youth Peace Congress in Holland during the latter part of August.

Mr. White and Mr. Williams of University of California at Los Angeles and myself are in Geneva at present. Mr. Williams, who is Mr. Meade of Pomona and Mr. Loeffler of University of California at Los Angeles are now in Rome studying conditions there. All five will meet soon in Holland where the 500 student delegates representing all the countries of the world will gather to discuss the problems on which the peace of the world now depends and to try for a better understanding among themselves.

Here in Geneva it is fascinating to watch the interplay of race and politics. It is far more cosmopolitan than Paris, and consciously so. In the hotel sponsored by the International Confederation of Students there are at present some twelve to fifteen students representing ten different nations. This contact will be valuable toward the end result of such association. The problem is to educate the American student mind to appreciate this vital need in world affairs.

Expressed by many of these students from other lands is one of great expectancy—the hope that America will reach her independence and become in truth the champion of liberty.

INDIA GROUP WATCHING
The young men and women from India are especially interested in this phase of American thought. It is stimulating to talk over their problems and ours in the light of understanding. A keen mind is recognized on its own merit here, and there seems to be none of the ordinary barriers which are often set up in less tolerant regions. The cry is for a practical application of the ideals of America, and which we all are so fond, liberty and equality.

It is startling to learn the current impressions which are abroad concerning the youth of America, and our own misconceptions are often very grave also, but in the spirit of understanding we feel that our Geneva visit has been worth the effort.

Many of the most famous experts in the world along lines of education and understanding have been meeting here this week with the League of Nations Committee on Intellectual Co-operation. Mme. Curie, M. Paul Painleve of France; Mile J. Bonnevill, renowned biologist; Prof. Gilbert Murray of Oxford; Sir Jagadish C. Bose who founded the Research Institute in Calcutta, and Stephen P. Duggan, director of the International Educational Institute.

The United States in place of Dr. Robert A. Milligan, together with five other famed experts from different countries gathered. The influence of this considerable quantity of thinking youth in its impact upon the individual countries cannot help to be felt, and while many of the students lack the enthusiasm of the typical American, their philosophy of life is much deeper and their effect may be greater.

The League of Nations itself is comparatively quiet except for the important committee meetings which are being held continually, but the International Labor Office is a busy place. Its chief duty is to conclude labor studies and treaties with a view toward getting them accepted by the member states of the League, and a second, equally important function is to provide impartial, correct, and timely information to any country of the world with regard to any phase of the labor situation.

Before the war this was a physical impossibility. This office now maintains a staff which understands and can translate every language known, from Sanskrit to Esperanto, and these accurate reports are available to anyone who needs them.

DELEGATES GET STIMULUS
Thus we have been in an atmosphere which should prepare us for the discussions to come in Holland, and which will lend new life to our impressions as we see Germany and Austria before the Congress. It is with Geneva's faith and idealism coupled with the scientific endeavor of accurate thinking, that the youth of the world are setting about the solution of the vexing problems which the world of today faces.

Our efforts in Holland will be another link in the chain which is being forged by the heart and mind of youth seeking to learn the best from the old methods, and if possible, to discover a better way for the new.

Give me the crash of a circuit smash—

PILGRIMAGE STARTS FOR COOK SHRINE
Honolulu Celebrants on Way to Island on Which Explorer First Landed

HONOLULU, Aug. 15. (P)—With formalities incidental to the opening of the sesqui-centennial celebration of the discovery of Hawaii by Capt. James Cook, British explorer, completed, a pilgrimage to the historic spot where Cook first landed was undertaken today.

British, Australian, New Zealand and American officials expected to leave Honolulu tonight for the island of Kaula to visit the spot where Cook landed, where he held the first Christian funeral service, and where he died.

Naval officers representing the four countries designated the U.S.S. Pennsylvania to lead the international fleet to Kaula, and return and then make a pilgrimage to the island of Hawaii and back.

British armed troops will land on Kaula tomorrow for the first time since Cook's landing in 1778. They will participate in the dedication of a monument to the discoverer, after which the four warships will fire national salutes of twenty-one guns each.

Secretary of War Davis, the United States representative at the sesqui-centennial, was the guest of honor at a dinner here last night.

FRIENDS HONOR GALUSHA COLE

Grand Old Man Celebrates 102nd Birthday

Pasadena Citizens Unite in Good Wishes

Cake Cut, Then Distributed Among Hundreds

PASADENA, Aug. 13.—More than 1000 citizens said "many happy returns" to Galusha M. Cole, this city's oldest citizen, on the occasion of his 102nd birthday anniversary celebration today. At the formal exercises held this afternoon in Memorial Park, scores of children placed floral tributes at the feet of a man who was approaching middle age during Civil War days.

G.A.R. PARTICIPATES
Robert E. Cies, president of the Pasadena Indiana Colony Association, which arranged the program, introduced George Eades, the master of ceremonies. As Mr. Eades shook hands with Mr. Cole, the local G.A.R. Post's fife and drum corps played "Memories," and the audience stood with bared heads until Mr. Cole was seated.

Robert L. Daugherty, acting chairman of the Board of City Directors, extended birthday felicitations on behalf of this city and declared that, "except shown to old age is always a sign that people's hearts are right."

Mr. Cole spoke briefly into the microphone. He told of his personal contact with Abraham Lincoln and declared that the love of his friends had made his 102nd year one of the happiest in his life.

SUPPER PROVIDED

At the close of the Memorial Park program a feast bearing Mr. Cole, honor guests and a huge birthday cake, headed a parade which disbanded at Brookside Park where a picnic supper was held.

The climax of the festivities came when Pasadena's "Grand Old Man" insisted in cutting the four-layer birthday cake into 1000 pieces—more or less. Less, because Mr. Cole cut extra large slices for the Civil War veterans, and more, because the others were forced to broil their slices into crumbs so that each member of the family could say, "I had a piece of the oldest birthday cake ever cut in Pasadena."

Day-and-Night Bank Proposed for Pasadena

PASADENA, Aug. 13.—A day-and-night bank, which will give twenty-four-hour service except Sundays and legal holidays will be erected near the intersection of North Main and Olive streets, according to plans of the Pasadena Day and Night Bank, which is being organized by H. M. Wiersma, former New York City Alderman, and former New York City Mayor, who is in New York City assisting the Smith campaign forces.

The Pasadena Day and Night Bank will be the first of several similar institutions which will be established in Southern California, according to Wiersma. Pouker declares that a day and night bank will make it possible for persons of moderate means who are unable to leave their work or homes during business hours, to open commercial and savings accounts for the first time in their lives.

REDLANDS LIBRARY CIRCULATION GROWS

REDLANDS, Aug. 13.—The A. K. Smiley Public Library, which has now grown to 50,000 volumes, enjoys a very large circulation per capita. The report of Miss Mabel Innes, librarian, shows there is a per capita circulation during the year, on a basis of 18,000 population, of 11.2. Miss Innes reported that the circulation during the year, which closed on June 30, was 200,000 volumes more than the preceding year.

FOOTBALL TEAM GOES TO TRAINING CAMP

MONROVIA, Aug. 13.—Having raised money for their expenses, football players of the high school with their coach, Harold (Hobbs) Adams, will leave Saturday for Bishop where they will establish a training camp at the Wilshire mines.

The team trained at Bishop last year, and according to Adams, the mine is an ideal location for the camp. The boys will be in training for several weeks.

NEW SCENIC ROAD VIEWED

Ventura County Officials Inspect Proposed Route of Highway Over Sulphur Mountain

VENTURA, Aug. 13.—The opening of a new scenic route in Ventura county will be made possible if the newly proposed highway over Sulphur mountain becomes a reality, according to Charles Pettit, county engineer, who with other members of a viewing board, went over the proposed route yesterday. The new highway will leave the Ojai-Ventura road at a point just south of the San Antonio creek bridge and will follow over an easy grade to the top of Sulphur Mountain. Then it will follow the summit ridge of the mountain to a point in the upper Ojai Valley.

From this ridge, which extends for miles, a great scenic panorama spreads below the observer. Below lies the Ojai Valley, nestled among its great oaks and with its rugged walls making it picturesque background. And to the other side is the ocean in the distance, with intervening hills and valleys far below.

NARCOTIC CASE WEAKENS

Doctors Provide Affidavits Declaring Suspect Needs Sedative, While Woman Involes Sanatorium Tests

VENTURA, Aug. 13.—The cases pending in the Superior Court against Earle Rogers and Marie Earle, charged with possession of narcotics, may never come to trial, it was intimated today by Asst. Dist. Atty. Don Holt, following a conference he held with Federal Narcotic Investigator C. A. Luckenbach and Rogers.

Rogers, former school attendance officer of Santa Paula, and Miss Earle have been out on $1000 bail since their preliminary hearing in the Justice Court in Oxnard. Miss Earle is now under treatment at the County Hospital to determine whether she is a narcotic addict. She volunteered to take the tests in an effort to clear herself of the charges.

Rogers today presented affidavits from Dr. J. C. Strong, Dr. D. G. Clark and Dr. F. E. Blaisdell Jr., the latter of Santa Paula, which stated he was not a narcotic addict and giving full information on the ailments which necessitate his use of stimulants.

According to Dr. Blaisdell, Rogers is suffering from enlargement of the vessels of the heart and also from angina pectoris which causes him terrible pain at times, when it becomes necessary for him to have large doses of sedatives.

Rogers has intimated he is willing to submit to a test at a sanatorium to find out if it will be possible for him to cut down partially on the use of drugs.

Jury Holds City as Negligent

SAN FERNANDO, Aug. 13.—The verdict of a coroner's jury at the inquest here yesterday over the body of George Friday, 18 years of age, who was killed Saturday while working with a city reclamation crew in the San Fernando Canyon, held the city of Los Angeles negligent and charged failure to take proper precautions.

Friday, a laborer, was digging under a five-foot bank of dirt with two other men when the earth caved in, burying Friday and John Edwards. Clyde Lawrence, a fellow-worker, escaped. Friday was badly crushed and died within a few moments. He had been employed by the city only a few weeks.

DRIVER GOES THROUGH FENCE IN DENSE FOG

LA VERNE, Aug. 13.—Blinded by a heavy fog, while he was driving to the house of a friend early this morning, J. W. Keyser of Dudley street, Pomona, was fatally injured when his automobile crashed through a fence and turned over several times on the Mountain Meadows Country Club Road, south of here. Keyser was treated at the Pomona Valley Hospital for numerous cuts and bruises, especially upon the arms and hands, while deputies from the Sheriff's Substation at San Dimas, who investigated the accident, reported the auto a total wreck.

VALUATIONS BOOSTED

AZUSA, Aug. 13.—The assessed valuation of property of the Union Rock Company here, now the home of ex-Mayor M. T. Darrell on Foothill Boulevard was raised by the City Council sitting as a board of equalization Monday and Tuesday, it was announced today by City Clerk Robert H. Smith.

The Union Rock assessment was increased $45,500; last year's valuation recorded on the assessment roll being $62,500.

The Council was ousted following the election of the new Council, received a boost of $1000 on the assessed valuation of his large Foothill home. The new tax rate will be fixed in September, Smith said.

BUSCH GARDEN TO SHUT GATES

Famous Beauty Spot to be Closed to Public

American Legion Will Suffer Loss of Revenue

Estate Executors Have No Power to Continue Gift

PASADENA, Aug. 13.—By order of the executors of the late Lilly Busch, the gates of the Busch Gardens, through which thousands of beauty lovers from all parts of the world have passed during the last twenty-five years, will be closed, perhaps for all time, on September 1, next.

Edmund V. Krug, manager of the Busch estate, revealed today that he has been ordered to close the famous gardens by August Busch, son of the late Mrs. Busch, and R. A. Huber, both of St. Louis.

LEGION LOSES HEAVILY
There was no provision in Mrs. Busch's will for continuation of the arrangement she made in 1921 under which the gate receipts from the gardens were turned over to the American Legion for welfare work among disabled and needy veterans and the executors have stated that they are without power to continue it. As the result of this philanthropic arrangement, more than $1400 has been used to assist war veterans.

Whether or not the Busch Gardens will be disposed of or subdivided will be determined by the near future by the two executors, according to Mr. Krug, who believes that the large cost of maintaining the grounds may make it impossible to keep the Southern California beauty spot intact.

FUND FOR SOLDIERS

In 1921, Mrs. Busch, through her manager, Mr. Krug, informed Legion officials of her decision to provide a regular source of funds for disabled soldiers.

Her offer to donate the admission fees, was accepted and three trustees were appointed: Byron R. Tuller, former Mayor of Pasadena; Walter K. Tuller, Los Angeles attorney and former army major; and Allen B. Rixby, local banker and member of the board of directors of the Legion. Robert M. McMurtry, adjutant of Pasadena Post, No. 13, American Legion, has served as secretary of the board of trustees.

The fund was set up in 1921, when the late Adolphus Busch employed Robert O. Fraser, landscape architect, to create, with the aid of the city of Pasadena, a beauty spot. Appraisers have stated that the value of the gardens is between three and four million dollars.

Preference in membership will be given to local residents, Scott said. However, musicians from other communities will be secured to provide local talent is insufficient to properly balance the orchestra.

Fishing Boats Win in Council

NEWPORT BEACH, Aug. 13.—Fishermen who occasionally take parties on charter cruises for deep-sea fishing will be required to pay only $100 a year for a license, it was ruled by City Attorney Roland Thompson at the meeting of the City Council.

The petition was presented to the city clerk a week ago against the payment of high fees for accommodations for fishing parties. About thirty charter fishing boats and other fees demanded.

ELECTRIC CHARGES GREATER IN SUMMER

REDLANDS, Aug. 13.—Despite the fact that the ornamental street lights are not burning more than nine hours a day, the electric bill for the city is higher in the summer than in the winter.

The report of C. R. Hook, City Clerk, shows that the bill in the summer averages $2500 per month, about half of this is for power for the pumps in the water wells. In the winter these pumps are not used and the bill is about $2000 a month. Redlands now has about 1000 lights and the bill has jumped from $10,000 a year to $24,000 a year.

EX-VETERAN KILLED IN SAN DIEGO

Victim Shot Down Near Home Over Asserted "Beer Racket" Developments

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 13.—John Lino, 31 years of age, of this city, is dead, and Luther Berry, 28, of Ocean side, is held in the City Jail on a charge of murder as the result of a downtown shooting here today. Lino was slain as he walked near his home, 1355 Union street, and Berry was arrested three blocks away a few minutes later by Patrolman Ed Myrick.

According to police, Lino was killed following a quarrel over the "beer racket." Did I get him? I sure hope I did a good job of it. Berry asked Myrick. He refused to give any details of the affair, however. Records in the local police bureau of identification reveal that Berry was arrested in Los Angeles July 21, 1928, on a robbery charge. DUCK CENSUS TAKEN AT BALDWIN LAKE

BIG BEAR, Aug. 13.—That there are approximately 5000 ducks in Baldwin Lake at the present time has been revealed by a census taken by three prominent Southern California biologists here. At the request of the Bureau of Biological Surveys of the United States Department of Agriculture, Wright M. Fenwick, Robert A. Baker and J. A. Calder made the count. They indicated that the majority of the birds were pintails, commonly called chattering ducks, and mallards, teal and ruddies. The ducks seem to prefer Baldwin Lake to Bear Lake, as very few have been observed in the larger body of water.

He had been held in jail under $2000 bond and was released when it was learned that his nonresidence affected the law.

In order to compel her husband to provide for the family, his wife, Lena Chaney, has placed the matter in the hands of the District Attorney.

District Attorney's Force Perplexed by Case

SANTA BARBARA, Aug. 13.—Harry Ybarra, 6 years of age, is under technical arrest on a charge of murdering 5-year-old Pablo Barrera, during a quarrel at Beteravia, near Santa Maria, and district attorneys are puzzling over the many legal difficulties of the case.

Harry and Pablo, neighbors said, had been enemies for some time, but their childish feud was not considered important enough to bother with. Harry, late yesterday, found his brother's .22-caliber rifle and went out to shoot at birds.

Pablo approached and Harry called to him: "Get out of the way or I'll shoot you." Harry said, according to Ruben Otuna, 7, who witnessed the shooting, "Go ahead and shoot." Pablo shouted.

Harry fired, the bullet piercing Pablo's heart, and the child crumpled to the ground. Young Ybarra is the stepson of Juan Mendez, an employee of the sugar company at Beteravia. Pablo's parents are dead and he had been living with an older brother.

HUNTINGTON PARK, Aug. 13.—The County Auditor's office has sent word to City Clerk W. P. Mahood that the assessed valuation of property in this city is $17,414,528, a more than $1,000,000 increase over a year ago. The City Council will meet in a few days to fix the tax rate.

SOUTH GATE, Aug. 13.—The taxable wealth of South Gate this year is given as $11,582,540, as compared with $10,223,250 in 1927. This great increase is due mostly to the several annexations which have taken place in this section during the past twelve months, the area being more than doubled in the past year.

BELL, Aug. 13.—A report from the County Auditor's office, received by City Clerk I. N. Vaughn, states that the city's assessable property is $4,248,980. This is the first annual report received, as the city was incorporated less than a year ago.

UPLAND, Aug. 13.—R. A. Ferder, local truck driver, had a long sleep starting yesterday and ending today. Ferder was driving a truck loaded with fertilizer. The heavy machine run into the curb and upset, catching the driver under it. While an ambulance from Ontario was clanging toward the scene, Ferder pulled Ferder from under the truck.

To all appearances the man was dead. His arms hung limply at his side and his eyes were closed. He was rushed to the San Antonio Community Hospital operating room where surgeons were waiting to perform an emergency operation. A quick diagnosis—"dead to the world from booties"—not a scratch or bruise on his body.

Ferder was carried back to Ontario on a stretcher and into a jail cell on the same stretcher, unconscious until today when he awoke to face a charge of driving a motor vehicle while intoxicated. The truck was wrecked.

VICTIM DENIES HAVING FIT

Unique Explanation Given to Police Officers Who Answered Call

ONTARIO, Aug. 13.—"There's a man having a fit on Euclid avenue! Come at once!" an excited woman's voice shrieked over the telephone to police headquarters. The police car, siren shrieking, rushed to D street and Euclid avenue. There was a man lying in the grass of the parkway in Euclid avenue, with a woman sitting beside him, weeping as one in the last throes of death.

He was taken to the station and examined. It didn't look like a fit, and from all appearances he wasn't drunk. He writhed a bit more and then calmed down and answered questions in a sane manner.

"No, I ain't having a fit," he gasped. "I swallowed my chewing tobacco and it made me so sick I didn't care how I acted."

OIL FIELDS ORGANIZING FIRE CREWS

Orcutt District Operators in Plan for Trained Men and Permanent Force

SANTA BARBARA, Aug. 13.—Plans to organize the oil companies of the Orcutt district into a single unit for fire fighting and fire prevention will be completed this week, according to County Forester Frank R. Dunne. Seven of the major companies operating in the field will co-operate with the county forestry department in the plan. Each company will provide a crew of fire fighters to be ready for fire duty on call. At the present time each oil company fights its own fire and little or no fire prevention work is carried on.

Under the new system an extensive system of fire fighting will be built and road-side burning and other fire preventive measures will be undertaken. The county forestry department will furnish a director for both the fire fighting and fire prevention work. The following companies are co-operating in the plan:

The Union Oil Company with some 135 square miles will furnish fifty men. This company spends approximately $5000 yearly in fighting fires.

The R. & G. Company with 1000 acres will furnish twenty men. The Associated Company with seventy-five square miles and the Broomfield Company with 25,000 acres will provide fifteen to twenty men.

The Rance Ranch, the Falcon and the Broomfield companies, each having some 25,000 acres, will provide fifteen to twenty men.

Beach to Get New Bus Line

REDONDO BEACH, Aug. 13.—A municipally operated bus line running from Redondo Beach to Manchester avenue through Torrance and Gardena on Vermont avenue is projected by the Redondo City Council here under special resolutions introduced by the board last night. The plans include the formation of a city transportation committee composed of the five members of the Council, and the line is to be operated under Section 11 of the State law by which it is interpreted that municipalities can establish public-carrier systems without a franchise. A contract has already been secured with the Interline Bus Company of Los Angeles for the operation of the line. It was announced that the line will be thirty-minute service between 6 a.m. and midnight, with hourly service during the remainder of the time. The plan calls for 15-cent fare to Manchester and an auxiliary line is to be built, 300 feet long and 125 feet wide, between Redondo Beach and Hermosa and Manhattan. The project is the result of over a year's investigation on the part of City Councilman T. J. Hoy and other council members, who have encountered unexpected obstacles, will be in operation within thirty days.

When You Motor North

HOOVER HATES HIGH HAT

Republican Nominee Best at Camp Fire Where He Reveals He's Truly Akin to West

BY MARY BAINBRIDGE HAYDEN

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Aug. 15. (P)—California men who have known Herbert Hoover since his school days find it difficult to understand how the public generally has gained a picture of the Republican Presidential candidate as an aloof, impressive man. They concede that he is somewhat diffident when on parade, and that he has an unconscious dignity of manner and bearing, but they insist that he has straight forward and unaffected simplicity that must make one altogether forget his official prominence.

Looking into his friendly, interested face, that smiles all over, with turned-up wrinkles at the eye- corners, one feels suddenly, surprisingly at ease. Even to children there is nothing of the awesome about him. On first acquaintance he feels immediately sure of a sympathetic hearing.

His CHUCKLE DELIGHTFUL. When guests assemble on the back terrace of his home here, he moves about from one group to another, a big, comfortable figure in a sack suit, invariably friendly and approachable. He does not laugh or jest, but he has a great deal of fun in his blue eyes, and a way of making brief comments that are apt and humorous.

Moreover, he talks well and vividly. He has no great fund of small talk, such as people feel must arm themselves with, but when he is interested in a subject he can command the attention of any group with the extent of his information and his clear and forceful expression.

HOOVER LISTENS WELL. He has also the rather rare gift of listening, no matter what the subject. If he feels that what is being said is worth while he can listen with intense concentration, with a look of intense concentration in his keen eyes that seems to show that what he hears will be indelibly impressed on his memory.

If the subject ceases to interest him, a completely absent expression comes over his face, but as a rule he is carefully weighing whatever he hears.

By a camp fire at night, he is perhaps at his best. There seems to be something akin to him in the strength of the western mountains that brings out the best in him.

His habits still are simple. When not working at his desk in the spacious study, Hoover likes nothing better than a drive into the country for a picnic with a few friends, a camping trip or a fishing trip.

In his unostentatious church-going, with entrance and departure by a small side door of the Stanford University chapel, the candidate echoes again the lack of ceremony that attended the goings and comings of his mother and grandmother, recorded ministers of the Springfield and West Branch Quaker meeting-houses.

QUAKER PRECEPT KEPT. Even his lack of small talk, his silence on many occasions, his friends feel, reflects a Quaker simplicity and directness, rather than any lack of interest in those around him. The Quaker precept, "Learn to be quiet," they feel, left so indelible an impression on him in the long hours of Sunday meeting in his boyhood that any half-fellow-well-met "mixing" is awkward for him.

He wears a plain, double-breasted blue coat and seldom, if ever, is seen with jewelry. This aversion to adornment reflects even his choice of watches, and he always carries a $2 nickel-case timepiece with a luminous dial to add to its utility.

During his years of public service, a number of expensive and elaborate watches have been presented to him, by personal friends and admirers, but seldom have they done more than add to his collection of foreign decorations and other unused souvenirs.

John D. Third to Begin Career on Bank Board

NEW YORK, Aug. 15. (P)—John D. Rockefeller III, will start his business career as a member of the board of a bank his father, John D. Rockefeller Jr., is to establish in Harlem.

The bank is for the accommodation of the negro population of that section and for the encouragement of thrift. It will be known as the Dunbar National Bank and located in the Dunbar Apartments Building which Mr. Rockefeller erected to provide model homes for negroes at a reasonable rental. It will be opened September 17.

Young Rockefeller is 23 years of age and a senior at Princeton. It is announced he will come from Princeton to attend meetings of the board as his father wishes him to obtain some banking experience as part of his general training and education. He now is in Geneva where he has a temporary position at $20 a week in the information section of the League of Nations Secretariat.

Raskob Periled When Elevator Falls in Hotel

NEW YORK, Aug. 15. (P)—John J. Raskob, Democratic national chairman and a half a dozen others of Gov. Smith's campaign advisory cabinet, had a narrow escape last night when an elevator in which they were riding fell more than two floors and imprisoned its occupants twenty stories above the ground for almost an hour.

Those riding with Raskob included Advisory Committee Chairman Senator Gerry of Rhode Island and Mrs. Gerry, Senator Wheeler of Montana, Col. Herbert H. Lehman, campaign finance director, Senator Harrison of Mississippi, Representative Parker Corning of New York and Dr. and Mrs. Henry Moskowitz.

The party was descending in an elevator at the Savoy Plaza Hotel. The car failed to stop at the twenty-third floor and fell until it was halted by mechanical safeguards between the twenty-first and twenty-second floors.

Commission Gives Licenses for Two Stations

(Copyright, 1929, by North American News Service Alliance.)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15. (Exclusive)—Establishment of a nationwide radio communications network rivaling the wire systems of the Western Union, Postal Telegraph and American Telephone and Telegraph Company, is the purpose of an ambitious enterprise being sponsored by a group of up-State New York business men and one from Chicago.

They succeeded yesterday in obtaining permits from the Federal Radio Commission authorizing them to construct two 10,000-watt radio stations at New York and Chicago for experiment on three short-wave channels.

PLANS FOR NETWORK. Incorporated in Delaware recently as the Universal Wireless Communication Company, the project contemplates a radio network that will reach most of the large cities of the United States.

The proposed string of stations will extend from New York, Boston and other points in the East to San Francisco and other cities in the West and from Chicago, Detroit and Buffalo in the North to Palm Beach, Galveston and other points in the South. They will be open to the public service in the same manner as existing telegraph companies.

In obtaining the construction permits and experimental licenses, Dr. Kohn Nathanson of Buffalo succeeded in launching the first phase of the enterprise in spite of a policy day that he planned to call the directors of his organization to a meeting immediately to consider filing of a Supreme Court action eliminating the petition.

Lads Snatched From Gallows at Last Minute

LONDON, Aug. 15. (P)—Three young men condemned to be hanged this morning received a reprieve from Sir William Joynson-Hicks, Home Secretary, under highly dramatic circumstances within twelve hours of the time set for their execution.

The trio were convicted of robbing and assaulting an elderly man near Brighton and when the victim died of his injuries were convicted of murder. The Criminal Appeal Court refused to intervene and the Home Secretary, after receiving various representations, announced officially only last Monday night that he was unable to advise His Majesty to intervene.

The executioners arrived at the prison yesterday and relatives had their final interviews with the condemned men. Then last night the Home Secretary announced: "After the most anxious review of all the circumstances it has been decided to rescind the previous decision and advise commutation of the death sentence to penal servitude for life."

Blazes Blamed on Pyromaniac

REDWOOD CITY (Cal.) Aug. 15. (P)—Three incendiary fires discovered in Belmont between midnight and 1 a.m. today led police here to revise their theory of the origin of a fire that took three lives at the Sol Koff residence here yesterday. Early reports indicated that an overheated chimney fired the Koff dwelling, but police now declare a pyromaniac may have ignited the structure.

A posse today hunted through the hills near Belmont for the man who endangered the lives of patients of a sanatorium with his incendiary activities.

The man started a fire in a coal closet in one of the buildings of the Gottfrath Sanatorium, in which fifteen patients were asleep. The same man presumably set fire to a private garage and was responsible for a garage fire that would have had it not been controlled, endangered several business buildings in Belmont.

Kellogg Decides to Repay Visit of Irish President

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15. (P)—Secretary Kellogg has practically decided to visit Ireland after signing the fifteen-power antiwar treaty in Paris the 27th inst., in order to return the call of President Cosgrave of the Executive Council of the Irish Free State, made during his visit to this country. It is not unlikely that Mr. Kellogg also will visit London.

Mr. Kellogg will have a little more than a week to spend in Europe before the sailing of the steamship Leviathan, on which he plans to return to the United States. While the Secretary has announced no definite plans, it is known he contemplates the call on President Cosgrave, who warmly invited him while here to make the visit.

Officers Slay Jail Breaker

CHICAGO, Aug. 15. (P)—An hour after Hans Pate, 25 years of age, saved his way from jail today he was shot to death by detectives. The man, who was held under $500,000 bonds on a charge of burglary, was captured near his home soon after his escape.

Detectives had placed him in their automobile and were en route back to jail when Pate suddenly leaped from the motor car. The officers fired and he fell. He was dead when they reached a hospital.

TEETH THAT BUTTON CAN NOW BE CHANGED LIKE SHIRT STUDS

CHICAGO, Aug. 15. (Exclusive)—Delegates to the conference of National Dental Laboratory Technicians have some snappy, new ideas to put before the conference. One is the new snap-on tooth, which is announced by the organization as a "tooth that snaps on and off like a shirt stud."

The technicians have a great scheme for making use of this shirt-stud idea in modern dentistry. They propose to have the teeth snapped onto a card, arranged according to numbers, sizes and colors. Some will match the tie pin. Then there are formal teeth for dinner wear, snappy snap-ons for the golf links and broad base teeth for making grinding noises at a bridge party.

Other technicians will tell of model dentures costing as much as $5000, which permit the dentist to display his wares like a jeweler. But the prize display will be the snap-on tooth for the man about town.

Among the technicians who will tell of the latest developments in teeth are Ernest E. Dalton of Chicago; Dr. John J. Fluggibbons of Holyoke, Mass.; Dr. Charles Horder of Albany, Dr. M. M. House of Los Angeles and Dr. Paul McGowan of Boston.

Minister, Run-down in Health, Gains 7 Lbs. in 3 Weeks

NEW YORK, Aug. 15. (P)—George K. Morris, 45 years of age, chairman of the Republican State Committee, died of apoplexy today in his room at the Hotel Drake.

Mr. Morris, a knit goods manufacturer of Amsterdam, had breakfast this morning with Charles D. Hill, New York member of the Republican National Committee. He had returned to his room when the stroke that resulted fatally came on.

News of the death was sent to Republican quarters. Mrs. Sara Schuyler Butler, vice-chairman of the committee, and daughter of Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, sent word that she would come to New York immediately from Southampton. It is expected that she will hold the chairmanship temporarily.

Mr. Morris returned recently from California, where he conferred with Herbert Hoover, his party's Presidential nominee, regarding the national campaign in New York State. At the Kansas City convention he had favored the nomination of President Coolidge until it became apparent that Mr. Coolidge would not be a candidate, then he declared for Hoover.

Mr. Morris's removal by death from the leadership of the Republican party in this State came only a day after Lieut.-Gov. Corning had announced his resignation as chairman of the Democratic State committee because of ill health.

AERO COMPANY TO REORGANIZE

Local Plane Motor Works Will Expand

Mass Production Schedule Inaugurated

Demand Creates National Distribution

Planning a reorganization and development of plant facilities involving an expenditure of about $100,000, Kinmer Airplane and Motors Corporation, of Glendale, manufacturer of airplane motors, is on the threshold of a mass-production program, whereby its product will be distributed throughout the entire country. W. B. Kinmer, president, declared yesterday.

Kinmer Airplane and Motors Corporation was incorporated in 1919 and is said to be the pioneer of the Southwest in the field of airplane-motor manufacturing. Of the original authorized capitalization of $100,000, 80,000 shares of $1 par value each are outstanding. Within the next thirty days it is planned to apply for reincorporation at $500,000.

Although the company has been in operation since 1919 most of the work has been experimental. About twenty motors were manufactured last year. Last month, however, production was put on a regular basis with the result that the company is now putting out motors at the rate of fifteen a month, working one and a half shifts a day. July output was twelve motors.

The company manufactures only one motor, invented by Mr. Kinmer. It is a five-cylinder radial type of 100 horsepower and is used principally for small planes of the two-seat variety.

This motor, according to Mr. Kinmer, is one of two in Los Angeles that has successfully passed the requirements set by the Bureau of Standards of the Department of Commerce. Two other motors have temporary certificates, he said.

An ordinance passed by the City Council of Los Angeles last April requires all planes and plane motors used for commercial purposes to pass this standard, or that by the Army and Navy. Many other cities and States have adopted this ruling, he said.

There are forty-two orders on the books of the company at present, according to Mr. Kinmer.

Application will be made for listing of the stock on one of the Los Angeles stock exchanges. At present there are 150 stockholders. Directors of the company include R. M. Olin, secretary-treasurer; C. M. Kinmer, J. F. Horne and M. J. Pitt.

MONEY QUARREL STILL ON

Los Angeles Observers Find Wall Street Bankers Looking for Federal Reserve Victory Over Brokers

BY EARLE E. CROWE
Los Angeles business men and bankers, lately returned from visits to the eastern financial centers, report that banking and stock market opinion is still widely at odds over interest rates, speculation, and loans on stock market collateral. Tempered statements are made publicly, but underneath the surface an angry quarrel is raging among the members of the financial community.

Stock exchange members and traders in the market are openly antagonistic to the program of the Federal Reserve Board to reduce brokerage loans and restrict speculation. Pointed criticism is directed at the board for its credit policy, and general denial made of a conspiracy of exchange members to resist the actions the board has taken. Eight per cent call money, according to these reports, is described in Wall Street as "mischievous interference with legitimate business."

REDISCOUNT RISE SEEN
Wall street bankers, however, are reluctant to either openly criticize the Federal Reserve Board or approve its course, so the Los Angeles observers say. The bankers do take the position, nevertheless, that the board will achieve its objective, and that the next month or so will inaugurate a period of actual tightness in money, or rates around 10 per cent. This forecast is accepted as the opinion of a thorough readjustment of stock-market prices and brokerage loans to lower levels. The New York rediscount rate is almost sure to advance, according to current banking opinion.

Incidentally, the stock exchange members prefer to use the term "collateral loans" instead of "brokers' loans" in order to shift part of the fight to the investment houses, which are large borrowers on undistributed bond issues. Money borrowed on new issues should not be included in the complications to show the volume of speculation, the brokers assert.

While carrying on this fight against the Federal Reserve Board, brokerage houses are holding out the hope to clients that criticism may induce the board to revise its program, and begin again to purchase government securities for the open market. Such a course might lay the foundation for a lowering of the rediscount rate in the next few months.

AYRES AGREES
Some of the economists identified with large banks, as well as some of the most influential bankers, are reported as supporting the Federal Reserve policy. Col. Leonard Ayres of the Cleveland Trust Company, goes so far as to say that the Federal Reserve Board's action entered upon its campaign sooner, and should push it with more vigor than it has.

"The loans on stocks and bonds began," he says, "to mount out of all proportion to the gold basis of credit in the autumn of 1924, when the bull market got under way, and they have kept on ever since, reaching their most rapid expansion and greatest volume during this past year when we have been steadily under conditions of a stiffening of interest rates has been necessary and inevitable, rather than merely temporary and artificial."

Naturally this controversy leaves the banking element in a wary frame of mind, and the brokers and traders in a flat-footed antagonistic attitude. But the general opinion is that the Federal Reserve Board can run the stock market to lower levels if it so desires.

Albers Milling Earnings Drop

While sales of the Albers Brothers Milling Company increased 10 per cent in the fiscal year ended June 30, last, over the previous twelve-month period, net profits after all charges dropped 87 per cent, according to the report made to stockholders by G. Albers, president. Net profits after interest, depreciation and other charges, amounted to $113,109.77, compared with $79,871.94 in the previous year.

After setting aside $158,000 for preferred dividends, which were not paid because of the reduction in net profits, the statement showed that the company refunded 1 1/4 per cent bonus by the issuance of 4 per cent bonds, placing the company in a stronger financial position. Sales operations have been extended to four Middle Western States.

Local Business Prospect Good

Although a survey reveals an increase in the unoccupied space of office buildings and apartment houses attributed to overbuilding late in 1927 and early this year, real-estate authorities are optimistic, stating that this situation will be improved in 1934 by the usual increase in population and the weekly summary of local business conditions said yesterday.

National chain stores are expanding locally and buying an increasing amount of products and merchandise here. Apparel manufacturers are optimistic for the fall and winter trade. Wallboard, hardware and electrical sales show substantial improvement over previous months.

Cleveland Economist Finds Prospects Better Than for Same Period of Last Year

BY PAUL WILLARD GARRETT
(Copyright, 1934, by New York Evening Post, Inc.)
NEW YORK, Aug. 15. (Exclusive)—Business during the remaining months of 1933 probably will be better than it was during the corresponding months of 1932, declares Col. Leonard P. Ayres, in the August bulletin of the Cleveland Trust Company.

"So far this year," says Col. Ayres, "stock exchange. They are primarily the result of a large and rapid outflow of gold and partly the aftermath of a great outburst of stock speculation staged at a singularly unpropitious time."

"The annual influence which tends to stiffen money rates in the fall is now well under way and it may be expected to be of increasing importance until the middle of October. After that some easing off probably will appear but the demands of the autumn and holiday trade are likely to prevent any important softening in interest rates until after the end of the year."

"Our loadings on the railroads and coal production, are now beginning to show a marked improvement week by week to produce records that are a little better than those of the corresponding weeks a year ago."

"The agricultural outlook is good, with weather conditions promising large harvests, and with farm prices at higher levels than last year. The increased sales of the mail-order houses and the farm-implement manufacturers are reflecting the improvement in the purchasing power of the agricultural sections."

"Over against these constructive conditions must be set the developments in banking and the money markets that have produced the current high rates of interest which have already increased the cost of doing business and brought about declines in bond prices and some stock prices and a sharp curtailment in the issuing of new securities."

"These conditions are not merely temporary and artificial nor are they the result of an unnecessary and undignified quarrel between the Federal reserve system and the

Investing $5,000 for Diversification and Income

To meet the requirements of a client seeking the reinvestment of $5000 and an attractive interest return, we have prepared the following list of bonds selected from among our current offerings.

The list represents an unusually wide diversification, and includes a foreign government bond, a utility, a real estate mortgage bond, an industrial, and a high-grade preferred stock. The average return for these issues is slightly over 6%—decidedly attractive in view of current bond prices.

We believe one or all of these bonds may well have a place among the holdings of every conservative investor. If you wish to check the issues in which you are interested and mail us this statement, we will gladly send you detailed descriptive circular.

WALL STREET PARAGRAPHS
NEW YORK, Aug. 15. (Exclusive) — Reports from Washington, circulated in the financial district that Department of Justice officials had undertaken an investigation into the Chrysler-Dodge consolidation aroused only mild interest in brokerage circles. SEASONED BUILDING BONDS

—Secured by First Mortgages on Down Town Properties Yielding 5.50% to 7%

A few short years ago, there were many attractive first mortgage bonds secured by downtown structures in Los Angeles available for investors.

Yet today, a comparative shortage of these securities exists due to their continued absorption by Eastern markets. Many issues have already been refinanced in the East on a 6% and in some cases a 5 1/2% basis.

Far-sighted investors may well afford to purchase and hold seasoned first mortgage bonds secured by completed properties in downtown Los Angeles. We offer a diversified selection of these issues at prices to yield 5.50% to 7.00%—exempt, in opinion of counsel, from California Personal Property Tax.

Wilbur Says Southland May Be Made Home Base for Navy's Proposed Dirigibles

Southern California may become the home base for operation of the navy's giant dirigibles with the probability that one of the new $8,000,000 airships, authorized by Congress, will be stationed at San Diego, Secretary of the Navy Wilbur stated last night as he boarded a train for Port Angeles, Wash., to continue his Pacific Coast tour of inspection of naval establishments.

WORK TO START SOON
The construction of two 6,000,000-cubic-foot airships and bids for their construction have been submitted. We hope to start construction within the next few weeks.

The Secretary explained that both dirigibles will be nearly twice as large as the Los Angeles, the navy's largest airship. Navy requirements call for the use of helium gas instead of hydrogen. The latter has the greater lifting power, but helium is not inflammable, a mid-air catastrophe by flames. Three years will

THE LANCER

By Harry Carr

When the Olympic Games first opened she rather elevated, her nose at the whole works, and said, in particular, she wouldn't go to any kind of show on Sunday.

The closing day, Sunday, the royal lady put in an appearance on the ground that she was just coming to see the military exercises. I can't just manage to see why it is any more moral to watch men practicing man-killing than running races on Sunday.

If the truth were known, I imagine that Wilhelm's political advisers told her that this was no occasion to be ritzy. Even a queen has to look to her fences.

TROUBLE AHEAD
Africa is due to be the next trouble zone.

Every European power has had a pretty bad record. Heaven knows that our own policy with the Africans has been plenty bad enough; but Uncle Sam has been a loving and devoted father compared with the deal handed the Africans blacks.

There is no actual difference between the "conscript labor" of modern Africa and the more frank and honest plan of Imperial Rome of enslaving conquered races.

The Africans are winning the victory by dying off of white men's diseases and leaving the exploiters without labor that can stand the climate.

SPEAKING RIGHT OUT
Both Al Smith and Herbert Hoover have been more courageous than the conventions which nominated them.

The two platforms were pretty weak and faint—especially on the subject of the Eighteenth Amendment. Hoover has made his position clear without equivocation. Presumably after what he has said in newspaper interviews—Al Smith will be equally bold and frank.

With the advent of the radio, the national conventions have shrunk in importance. The candidate now stands face to face with the entire nation.

DISCIPLINING THE GIRLS
The distinguished and austere Civil Service Commission of this country may be able to talk down thunder, lightning and volcano trimmings upon most reformers.

But when it comes to telling the girls who work for the county how to dress—

Even if Duce would never have dared such a venture.

DEAD FAME
Gertrude Ederle has reminded the world of her existence by entering the Canadian marathon swim.

Never did a fame so quickly rise or so quickly die. For six weeks the newspapers of the world were filled with her. Now, not two people out of ten even remember who she is.

She started from the fact that, because of Lindbergh, interest shifted from swimming to flying.

OUR DIPLOMAT
Morrow is a very sharp contradiction of the theory that all our diplomats ought to be peddlers who have been trained in the business.

Very few ambassadors in the history of our State Department have accomplished more than has this New York banker. The relations of this country and Mexico have entirely changed in tone.

There has been reaction against the trained diplomat. He goes from Portugal to Brazil and from Brazil to Belgium, until he is entirely lost contact with American thought.

New Figures Drawn Into Mrs. Mellus Murder Mystery Case

GANG SUSPECTS SENT TO CELLS

Chicago Group Sentenced to Jail and Fined

Palumbo Slaying Case Back of Court Action

New Trial Refused and Bond Fixed on Appeal

Jail sentences and fines were imposed on the five asserted Chicago gangsters, originally arrested by Detective Lieutenants James and Jones on suspicion of murder in connection with the "taken-for-a-ride" slaying of Angie Palumbo, local bootlegger, yesterday when they came up before Municipal Judge Sheldon for sentence, following their conviction by juries on charges of vagrancy.

Judge Sheldon sentenced Louis Tassell, John Testini, Vito Disares and Ray Armadillo to 180 days in jail and to pay a $500 fine each, while Tony Zanzola was sentenced to serve 180 days in jail and was not fined. A motion for a new trial, made by Wallace Davis, attorney for the five men, promptly was denied by Judge Sheldon.

Davis thereupon filed notice of appeal in each case and Judge Sheldon fixed appeal bonds at $3000 for Disares, $2500 for Testini and Tassell and $2000 for Zanzola. Bail promptly was furnished for each of the defendants.

Deputy City Prosecutor Hornaday recommended that all five of the men be given the extreme penalty under the law, and asked for appeal bonds of $5000 each.

Judge Sheldon gave the heaviest sentences to Testini, Disares and Armadillo because of testimony as to their connection with the armored car brought here from Chicago, now in possession of the police, which the police assert was the automobile from which Palumbo was killed.

DENKER AVENUE WORK ORDERED BY COUNCIL

The paving of Denker avenue from Eighty-fifth street to Manchester avenue was ordered by the City Council yesterday in response to a 75 per cent property owners' petition asking for the improvement. The work will be done at the same time Denker avenue is paved from Manchester avenue to Ninety-second street. Storm drains will be omitted from the improvement from Eighty-fifth street to Manchester. The pavement is to be six-inch cement concrete.

JANUS USES PLANE TO AID REALTY SALES

Harold Janus of the Janus Investment Company took twelve members of his company on a two-hour tour over the metropolitan area in one of the Fokker planes of the Western Air Express yesterday. FIGHT FOR BAIL LOST BY KELLEY

Butcher Boy Goes Back to Jail to Wait Trial

Unnamed Woman Quizzed by Investigators

Rumors and Veiled Hints Being Traced Down

Their connection with the case cloaked in a veil of secrecy by the police, several persons, among them at least one woman, and all of them reported to be new figures in the investigation, were questioned by detectives yesterday in connection with the murder of Mrs. Myrtle Mellus, with whom slaying Leo Kelley, butcher boy, now is charged.

The new angle of investigation was revealed last night by Captain of Detectives Ray Cato, head of the detective bureau at Wilshire division.

"Sensational rumors and veiled hints have reached our ears," said Cato, "and we are running them down. Several persons have been questioned and written statements taken from them. Until all of these have been taken, and it is established beyond a doubt that they have an important connection with the case, I feel that their identities should remain a secret."

WOMAN EVASIVE

The woman questioned, it was learned, nevertheless, was reported to have been a close friend of Mrs. Mellus, and to have known all of her intimate associates. This woman, it is declared, was evasive when asked to establish where she was on the day the murder was committed, and further was reluctant to discuss her association with Mrs. Mellus's friends.

A man sought by the Wilshire detectives, it is further ascertained, is one reputed to have been friendly with Mrs. Mellus just before or about the time her romance with Kelley began. One rumor is that this man was seen about the Mellus neighborhood a few days before the slaying.

Kelley's effort to get out of jail on bond came to naught yesterday in Superior Judge Edmonds's court. S. S. Hahn, his attorney, made a spirited argument for about fifteen minutes on the theory that though a man is charged with murder, the court has discretionary power to permit him to be bailed out of jail if the court believes that the presumption of guilt is not great. That there is nothing to show actual or deliberate intent or that proof of guilt is not great.

ATTORNEY'S ARGUMENT

Hahn argued that ample reason for such belief in favor of Kelley is found in the judge's transcript of evidence placed before the grand jury. He pictured relations between Kelley and Mrs. Mellus as entirely without reason for any wish, thought or motive on Kelley's part to do away with her. He said the testimony shows an affection between them that was interrupted as far back as Bible times. Frequently referred to as St. John's bread, the carob bean is of fleshy structure, and contains considerable nutritive value for cattle feed.

An interesting side light on the carob bean was disclosed by M. L. Bryan of the Botanic Garden staff, who said that the bean is credited as the origin for the goldsmith's "carat" weight, the bean's weight being equivalent to the gold standard.

In favor of the lack of probability argument. KELLEY LURED HE SAYS. Arguing further for lack of motive, Hahn pictured Kelley as a young man (he is 29 years of age) fascinated five years ago by a beautiful woman, encouraged to come to her home and treated to pleasures and opportunities amidst his superiors that he could not otherwise enjoy as a meek and obedient servant. He said that the mutual affection between the two was convincing that there was complete lack of any reason why Kelley should wish to do away with the woman.

Judge Edmonds said he had the transcript before him and is familiar with it, but that he would deny the motion for bond. His comment was confined to two short sentences. There was no apparent opposition on the part of the District Attorney's office to Hahn's argument or bond motion, his representatives permitting the argument to go unopposed.

Kelley was taken back to his cell to await trial on the 27th inst.

Doctor Answers Charges of Girl

The suit of Iris Statford, 20-year-old Canadian girl, for $150,000 against Dr. Charles M. Bellows, who, she says, is the father of her child, went to trial yesterday before Judge Schauer in Superior Court. A jury was selected and testimony will be taken.

With Miss Statford in court was little Lowell Statford, her son. She charges that Dr. Bellows made love to her in the summer of 1935, when she was 17.

Dr. Bellows, in his answer, indicates that his defense will be a counter-charge of an attempt at extortion by Miss Statford and her parents. The complaint, a brief document filed by Attorneys Gilligan and Cobb in behalf of the plaintiff, simply recites the charge against Dr. Bellows. His answer, prepared by Attorney Rupert Turnbull, relates that Miss Statford and her parents had approached him with a threat that unless he paid them a substantial sum they would disgrace him in the community.

Eastern Star's Oldest Member Given Tribute

Mrs. Susan A. Dennis, oldest member of the Eastern Star in California, was honored last night on the occasion of her eighty-fourth birthday at her home at 4723 Beverly Boulevard.

Mrs. Vera Fidler, active in musical circles, was hostess for the occasion, which was marked by a large gathering of Mrs. Dennis's friends and friends of the Eastern Star.

Alvira Co. opera, sang several numbers, and a Hawaiian orchestra from the Chinese Theater made an appearance.

Mrs. Dennis is a member of Golden State Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, and is widely known for her patriotic work during the war and her efforts in behalf of war-service men since.

REJUVENATION TALK WILL BE CONTINUED

Requests for a continuation of the theme, "Rejuvenation," introduced by Dr. Philip M. Lovell three weeks ago to his Thursday audience in the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway, have been so insistent that the health expert will enlarge on this topic this afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Times demonstration room. On the occasion of his former lecture, Dr. Lovell found the question so broad that he said it was impossible to cover it in one discourse.

Since halitosis never announces itself to the victim, you simply cannot know when you have it

The ring came back with a bottle!

The ring came back with a bottle—a bottle of Listerine—which explained more clearly than words that halitosis was the reason for breaking the engagement.

Brutal? Not at all. Halitosis is avoidable and therefore incurable. People who permit themselves to have it, do not deserve much consideration.

Don't fool yourself that you never offend this way. You simply cannot know—because halitosis doesn't announce itself to the victim. The one way to be sure of yourself is to use Listerine every day—after every meal.

Listerine makes halitosis it is a powerful disinfectant. If you need proof of this, a bit of onion on your hand, then apply Listerine immediately, the odor is gone. Even the strong odor of this yields to this treatment.

The City Council has been asked by the City Council's street-planning committee to investigate and report on the charges that there is a widespread practice of fraud in the awarding of street-planning contracts. The committee, which was organized by the City Council last year, has been investigating the matter since then. It has received many complaints from citizens who claim that they have been defrauded by the awarding of street-planning contracts. The committee has been unable to obtain any information from the City Council regarding the matter. It has therefore decided to ask the City Council to investigate the matter and report on the results of its investigation. The committee has also decided to ask the City Council to take steps to prevent such fraud in the future. The City Council has not yet responded to the committee's request.

DE MILLE AND BRIDE GET HOME
Work at Studio Prevents Honeymoon
Hollywood Gives Welcome
Mr. and Mrs. William G. De Mille at their Hollywood home on return from trip that included their marriage in Albuquerque on Tuesday.
The trip to Los Angeles on the train from Albuquerque, N. M., where they were hurriedly married on Tuesday, is the only honeymoon for William G. De Mille and his new bride, formerly Clara Beranger, actress. De Mille admitted as much yesterday when he and his bride arrived in Hollywood to be greeted by scores of friends in the film colony.
His work at the Paramount studio, where he is to spend his time on the development of sound pictures, will prevent a honeymoon trip for the present, at least.
"Anyway," De Mille said, "Mrs. De Mille has just returned from a trip abroad, so I guess we will not have to bother about a honeymoon trip right now."
Scores of congratulatory messages were awaiting the couple at their home in the hills of West Hollywood when they arrived. De Mille and his bride said they had never seen so many flowers.
The couple also explained the reason for their sudden marriage, which took place on the Chief in Albuquerque, where De Mille went Sunday to meet Mrs. Beranger. De Mille had written to her and she consented to his plan.
"We decided to be married first and then talk about it afterward, instead of getting married in Hollywood and making a big fuss about it before it happened," De Mille said.
De Mille is a brother of Cecil B. De Mille, director and producer, and was associated with him until he went to Paramount and De Mille joined Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. Mrs. De Mille worked with her husband a number of years before their marriage as a scenario writer. Last Friday his first wife, Mrs. Anna George De Mille, was given her final decree of divorce. The new Mrs. De Mille is a divorcee.
De Mille's hopes for re-election on the record of the County Board of Supervisors, Supervisors Bean, Wright and McClellan, in addresses at the City Club yesterday called attention to the low tax rates in Los Angeles county and outlined policies to be followed in the future in case they are re-elected.
"In spite of the increase in property valuation and the increase in cost of county government and improvements, the tax rate today is not as high as it was in 1922," said Mr. Wright. "In 1922 the rate was 76 cents, for 1923 and 1924, it was 68 cents, in 1925 and 1926 the rate was 64 cents, having climbed this to 70 cents, 6 cents under the 1922 rate."
Supervisor Bean spoke of the work which his department is accomplishing in the interests of juvenile delinquents and said that, with the establishment of proper buildings, the services of skilled physicians and experts in the care and training of youth, 90 per cent of the boys and girls sent to Juvenile Hall can be saved to useful lives.
"It is our desire to establish an industrial farm for prisoners," said Mr. Bean. "You can't reform men in idleness. Our prisons should be self-supporting instead of costing taxpayers $1.39 a day per prisoner."
Jonathan Dodge, speaking for Supervisor McClellan, said that Mr. McClellan's splendid service to the county should re-elect him to office.
Hugh B. Lawrence, Mayor of Inglewood and candidate for Supervisor from the Fourth District, spoke in praise of the institute of public administration at the University of Southern California, declaring that government can only be efficient and economical in proportion as young people are trained in governmental affairs.
Other candidates who spoke included Frank L. Shaw, Percy Hart, C. V. Snider, Rev. E. Houck, John Walke, Cole Salling and Alexander Mitchell.

BRIBERY MADE THEFT DEFENSE
property abandoned by the city to the gas company had an actual real estate appraisal of $250,000, and that through Sweeney the company had obtained property valued at $3,000,000.
The prosecution concluded its case rapidly against Sweeney yesterday, owing to the fact that Ryan stipulated to most of the prosecution testimony. Among other things he stipulated that Sweeney had received the money he is charged with having embezzled from the company, but asserted he will prove the money was not embezzled but was turned over to Sweeney for use at the City Hall.
Ryan was in the midst of his statement when adjournment was ordered by Judge Yankwich. He will continue this morning and reported he will make a complete resume of the asserted deals he says were made through Sweeney. Ryan declared it will take him approximately one hour to complete his statement, in which he said he expects to make several additional city officials and employees.
"I will account for the entire $150,000," Ryan said. "In a way I rate to stir up such a mess, but I feel it is my duty. The public is privileged to know what has been going on. Also I owe it to my client to do the best I can to clear him of the charges that have been brought against him in this case. We are going through without any attempt to cover up anything."
Speaking for the District Attorney's office, Dep. Dist. Atty. Denison, who is prosecuting Sweeney, characterized Ryan's statement as "part of the defense."
"As yet none of it has been proven, so for the present I do not deem it advisable to recommend action by the District Attorney's office or the grand jury on the charges made by Ryan."

It's a feeling of homesickness has attended me all the way except when I looked into the Grand Canyon and when I arrived in Los Angeles," he said yesterday at the Clark Hotel.

Park Bond Issue Held Defeated
The City Council yesterday officially declared the result of the $45,000 district bond election held Tuesday in municipal improvement district No. 59, San Fernando Valley, the issue being defeated. The vote was: For the bonds, 44; opposed, 60.
The proceeds of the bonds were to be used for the purchase of land for a district park, known as the Clyburn park project.

Strains of the old-time songs, "Mr. Gallagher and Mr. Sheehan" and "Good-by, Broadway-Hello, France," will resound through the quarters of the Los Angeles Eagles tonight when the authors of these songs are inducted into the fraternal order, according to President Charles W. Cradick. Headed by Charles F. (Chuck) Reiser, who wrote the snappy war-time favorite, and Bryan Foy, littlet of the seven little boys and author of the "Gallagher-Sheehan" piece, a class of theatrical notables is scheduled to "ride the goat."
STREET CHANGE ASKED
Nellie E. Randall and other property owners yesterday asked the City Council to change the name of Mattison street to the name, Fifth street, between Park View street and Coronado street. The property owners said that Mattison street is often confused with Madison street, especially over the telephone.
The League of Catholic Women has decided to oppose all beauty contests, on the ground that such competitions are "immoral."

After the first set, Tilden obviously was not trying very hard to defeat

the former Lehigh player. His performance was far from his best and his heart did not seem to be in the match. In addition, Mercier, always a dangerous opponent, was playing at the top of his game.

SAYS NOTHING

After the match Tilden refused to comment on his defeat, murmuring an almost inaudible remark about his being "too hot to play tennis out here."

Hunter's defeat was not due to any lack on the part of the second-ranking American player but rather to the remarkable game the young Texan displayed. Hunter made a game fight but could not cope with

Bell's aggressiveness. The New

Rochelle player's characteristic fallings when he is off form, a weakened service and a poor

backhand, were in evidence from the start.

The Texan took the first game and Hunter the second to start the first set. With Bell in the lead

each time they alternated in victories until the tenth game. With Bell ahead, 5-4, Hunter committed a double fault to drop the first set.

each of these Stars contributing a circuitous cloud.

NAME TILDEN ON EAST TEAM

NEW YORK, Aug. 15. (P)—Bill Tilden definitely will not be allowed to play on the eastern team in the East vs. West tennis matches Friday and Saturday at Forest Hills. It was announced today by P. Schuyler Van Bloem, vice-president of the Eastern Lawn

Tennis Association and a member of the committee in charge of organizing the eastern team.

Mr. Van Bloem said his committee reached this conclusion because "it felt it would not be sportsmanlike to use a player against whom charges are pending." Tilden, accused of violating the amateur player-writer rule, is to be "tried" by the United States

Lawn Tennis Association August 24.

Edmunds, Martin Capture Initial Matches

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 15. (Exclusive)—Jack Gaines of the Girard Country Club easily won his first-round match in the A. B. Spreckels Cup tournament from Tom Sharp of the Coronado Country Club here today, 7 and 6. Gaines, evidently at the top of his game, is favored to win the $1000 silver punch bowl.

The Los Angeles delegation finished well up. E. S. (Scotty) Armstrong, veteran tournament player of the Lakeside Country Club, won his match from Gail Stockton, 5 and 4. F. E. Combs, Jr., California State junior champion of the Virgil Country Club, defeated Cliff Little, 3 and 1. A. E. Stover won over Stern Davis, 2 and 1.

In an upset Jack Mackey, youthful Los Angeles Country Club star, lost on the nineteenth green to K. Harrison.

E. G. Martin of the Coronado Country Club won his match from Julian Cahn, 2 and 1, and will face Gaines tomorrow in the feature match of the day. Ward Edmunds, San Diego Country Club champion, also advanced to the second round by defeating A. A. Mathewson, 7 and 6, and T. A. Bowman defeated Nick Schafer, 9 and 1.

Race Marred by Bad Spill

CLEVELAND (O.), Aug. 15. (P)—A bad spill during the racing of the $11,000 championship steeplechase marred the one-day meeting of the Grand Circuit on North Randall track today and resulted in the suspension for one month of Driver Walter R. Cox of Green, N. Y.

Cox was up behind the cyclonic firestorm in the second heat when it is charged, he pulled out from the rail in second position while Guy Abbey was lapped on him. Guy Abbey went down, taking Driver Dick McMahon with him and the pack behind spilled over them. Firestorm went on and overhauled Nellie Signal, the early leader.

While Firestorm finished in front in the only two heats of the race the horse was disqualified because of the collision and Nellie Signal was declared the winner.

Three of the six drivers in the spill, Tom Berry, Hanover, Pa.; Dick McMahon, Lexington, Ky., and Alonso McDonald, Indianapolis, were taken to hospitals suffering from fractures and lacerations. The others were less seriously hurt.

Ben Walker of Pleasanton, Cal., drove Crusader, the Arion Guy cot to a straight heat victory in the home brew 2-year-old trotting sweepstakes.

Local Stars in Toronto Swim

VENICE, Aug. 15. (Exclusive)—At least three professional swimmers from this district will compete in the annual Toronto cash prize swim on September 5, it is just announced here.

The trio of mermen includes Myron Cox, Los Angeles lifeguard stationed on the local shore; Mark Wheeler, the speeding "speedo"; and Seward Holley, the 240-pound patrolman. All have been prominent in local swims, the Catalina Island derby, the around Alameda Island swim and the Toronto classic of last year.

Wheeler's best performance to date is his capture of second place in the Alameda swim of May 27. To do this he gave Byron Summers, Alameda's "flying fish," considerable of a chase for most of the eleven-mile route.

All of the men have been faithfully training for the swim for the past two months or more, according to Doc Wilson, the "swimming pharmacist," who is known hereabouts for his sponsorship of the annual Wilson trophy swims. Wheeler already has left for the scene of the Canadian contest, while the other two Venice delegates are to follow shortly.

RIENHARDT LOSES TO BELL AT WILMINGTON

Joe Bell won a ten-round decision over Joe Rienhardt in the main event at the Wilmington Bowl last night. It was a grudge fight and the two were at it hammer and tongs all the way.

Knockouts featured the rest of the card. Jimmy Lundy kayoed Marcelino Ortega in the first stanza of the six-round semi-wind-up. A right to the jaw did the trick. In the special event Les Kennedy, hard-hitting heavyweight, put Jack Sherry away in the first round with a right to the solar plexus. George Brady knocked out Jack Lane in the first round of their scheduled four-round fracas with a right to the chin and Jack McKnight stopped Ray Montoya in the fourth round of the curtain-raiser.

NEW CAFE AT RAINBOW

Leigh Garnsey, manager of the Rainbow Angling Club, announces that plans are being drawn for a large dining-room to be open to the public. In the meantime, the rustic cafe, recently opened for members only, is open to the public. The club grounds and fishing privileges are for members and guests only.

Rainbow has been visited by many anglers during the last week with many limits being caught. The Chef de Cuisine Association of California met at the club's rustic cafe last Sunday, over forty chefs from the larger clubs and hotels being present.

MISS LOS ANGELES TO TRY FOR WORLD'S RECORD TODAY

Ralph Snoddy, internationally known speedboat driver, will be at the helm of the Miss Los Angeles and figures to break the mark of 80.587 miles an hour record held by Gar Wood's Miss America II.

Keith Gledhill and Ellsworth Vines Victorious in Three Matches of National Junior Doubles

CULVER (Ind.) Aug. 15. (P)—Junior and boy tennis stars competing for the national championships on the courts of Culver Military Academy confined their efforts to doubles today. The singles are already down to the last eight in each division.

Three of the junior doubles teams are in the semifinals, while the boy final four teams have been selected. The three teams seeded at the top of the junior draw came through. Upmann, Cuban champion, 6-2, 6-1.

The other seeded junior teams to climb into the semifinals were Keith Gledhill of Santa Barbara and Ellsworth Vines of Pasadena and the team of Cliff Sutter of New Orleans and Wilmer Hines of Montreal, N. C.

In junior doubles second-round matches, Keith Gledhill, Santa Barbara, and Ellsworth Vines, Pasadena, defeated William Evans, Los Angeles, and Fred Labaree, Columbus, O., 6-0, 6-0.

S. F. Hayes, South Hadley, Mass., and Earl Bosong, Cincinnati, defeated William Evans, Los Angeles, and Fred Labaree, Columbus, O., 6-0, 6-0.

Harry Pymire, Palo Alto, and E. M. Ewton, San Diego, defeated Robert Holmes, Orem, Wis., and Robert McMahon, Glenview, Ill., 6-0, 6-1.

Walter Thomas, Elmora, N. J., and Joe Coughlin, San Francisco, defeated Robert McCullough and Jack Roberts, Indianapolis, 6-0, 6-2.

In the junior doubles third round Gledhill and Vines defeated Hayes and Bosong, 6-4, 6-1. Pymire and Ewton defeated Holmes and McMahon, 6-3, 6-7.

The match of Thomas and Coughlin vs. Earl Taylor and Carl Kamrath of Austin, Tex., will be played tomorrow.

GRID STARS OFFERED COURTESIES OF RINK

Opportunity to capitalize on one of the most valuable of football conditioning exercises, roller skating, has been offered to all of the Southern California grid athletes, through the invitation of Chester Crawford of the Rollerdom. Crawford has offered full courtesies of the Washington Boulevard rink throughout the month of August to all football candidates. Skating, according to Crawford, is valuable as a warming-up exercise since it brings every muscle of the body into play, particularly the leg muscles.

DOWNTRODDEN PUGS UPLIFTED IN NEW AND UNIQUE MANNER

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER
NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—The prize-fighting profession is returning to normalcy at a rapid rate and the pioneer in this new trend is neither Mr. Leo P. Flynn nor Mr. James J. Johnston, but a little child by the name of William Fowler. William is the son of a fallen-away journalist by the name of Mr. Gene Fowler. Mr. Fowler has acquired a six-months' leasehold on the recently imported South African heavyweight property, Johnny Squires.

LEASES FIGHTER

It seems that Mr. Fowler became the lessee of the Squires property in an unguarded moment. He was visiting the famous Jack Curley stables on Long Island and while strolling about admiring the herds of wrestlers, chanced to notice a strange heavyweight mowing the lawn.

"That is a fine-looking specimen there mowing the lawn," Mr. Fowler remarked, "but what is he doing here, he isn't a Russian, a Pole nor a Turk, nor he wouldn't be mowing the lawn."

"He is a South African heavyweight," Mr. Curley, "and he is not a wrestler, but a fighter. I wish I could get somebody to take him off my hands. But he hasn't any record in this country, and all the boys who come down to buy stock from my herds insist on having fellows with records. I would lease him for $500 a week, a small provision for depreciation, and insurance."

Mr. Fowler didn't want a heavyweight but the bargain instinct overcame him so he put down a down payment of $500 and returned to his home on Fire Island with one heavyweight in good condition. Then three weeks passed and the lessee was out $500. He had not obtained any matches for Squires and it came down to this that he had paid $450 to have his lawn mowed for three weeks.

But sordidness is one of the chief characteristics of the Fowler strains, asserting itself in the males at a very tender age. Mr. Fowler's son, William, is only 5 years old.

"He shows very promising tendencies," Mr. Fowler states.

"It was William who suggested the way out of my problem about Johnny Squires, the heavyweight. He chanced to see a letter which I had received from Johnny Dunn, the manager of Johnny Risko, written ten on Risko's letterhead, and he said to me: 'Pa, why don't you get me some of these pretty letter-heads?'"

The next day Mr. Fowler, by trick and device, did obtain some of Johnny Risko's stationery and the sordid strain of the Fowlers began to function.

The result was that boxing writers, sports editors and promoters in various parts of the country began to receive letters on the stationery of Johnny Risko, which read:

"Dear Pal in Sport:
"I hope you will not be deceived by the reports of our fight with South African Johnny Squires, as the report that Squires knocked Risko down three times is false, and he wasn't knocked down, but he slipped. This is merely Squires's propaganda trying to make a reputation at Risko's expense. Risko was feeling sick and he took the match just to help out the promoter, who was an old pal." The letters were signed "Joe" or "Harry" or "You're in Sport, Ed."

HEAVYWEIGHT TOURNEY ON TAP AT PASADENA

Morris Cohan's heavyweight elimination fight tournament gets underway at the Pasadena Arena tonight when Mack House, black giant, and Nick Newman, San Francisco socker, step into the Crown City ring for a scheduled ten-round battle. Cohan has signed six heavyweights in his tournament, the winner being promised a bout with Johnny Risko or another leading eastern contender for Tunney's title. The battle tonight may be one of the hottest of the tourney, according to Cohan, as both Newman and House are ready to make a real ring killing.

House, until he met Neil Clisby, was looked upon as one of the best prospects on the west coast. Despite that setback Cohan insists that Mack is still a great fighter. Newman has been picked to give House the acid test. Nick is rated as a hard hitter and an experienced ring man.

Among the other heavyweights signed by Cohan are Clisby, Tom Hawkins, Roy Cliffe and Leon Chavaler. Five other bouts will be presented on tonight's program as a supporting card to the main event.

Godfrey Loses Scrap on Foul

TORONTO, Aug. 15. (P)—Larry Gains, Toronto negro, won on a foul from George Godfrey, Philadelphia heavyweight, in the third round of a ten-round bout here tonight. The fight was advertised as for the "negro heavyweight championship of the world."

Gains had a slight edge over the giant Godfrey up to the time Godfrey's low blow ended the bout. The foul was a right uppercut, starting from Godfrey's knees and Gains stepped forward just in time to get the full force of the wallop. Godfrey weighed 238 pounds and Gains 195.

NAVY STARTS HER ON ROAD TO SUCCESS

Exposition Attendance Total Exceeds Expectations

Check Made at Completion of First Half of Run

Tomorrow Set Aside as Day of Tribute to Hoover

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, Aug. 15.—More than 800,000 persons from every State in the Union, Canada, Mexico and countries overseas have visited the Pacific Southwest Exposition which, at noon today, completed the first half of its thirty-nine-day run.

This was the announcement made here this afternoon by exposition officials, who declared that the total for the first nineteen and one-half days of the big fair exceeded early expectations.

Official check at noon revealed that 508,139 men, women and children had paid their way through the turnstiles at the main gate since the exposition was opened by Gov. Young on July 27, last.

Members of advertising clubs from more than a score of cities of the Pacific Coast participated in Ad Club day today at the fair. The day was dedicated to the advertising men at the California gardens on the show grounds, with a veritable frolic led by Noodles Fagan, vaudeville comedian. He presented several vaudeville artists from Los Angeles. More than 800 advertising men attended.

Today also was designated as Persia day and San Bernardino county day. A special program was presented in the Persia building on the Street of Nations by Dr. Ali Kuli Khan, former ambassador to the United States and to Russia. Dr. Khan is in charge of the Persian exhibit.

COMPTON CELEBRATION

San Bernardino county residents vied with folks from Compton in sharing the day and swelling the total attendance, as did large delegations from Burbank. A real celebration was held by the Comptonites under the joint auspices of the Compton Chamber of Commerce, the Civic Development Association and the Long Beach Boulevard Association. The celebration marked the opening of the newly completed Long Beach Boulevard from Huntington Park to this city and a parade of cars and floats starting at Main street, Compton, at the intersection of the boulevard, and ending at Long Beach, was a feature of the celebration. The Comptonites were formally welcomed to the exposition by Mayor Hays.

Tomorrow will be observed as Atlantic and Gulf States day. Gyro Club day and Girl Reserves' day, and special programs have been completed by the Gyros and the Girl Reserves.

HOOPER DAY SET

Friday gives promise of being one of the outstanding days of the exposition. Hooper day, with the expected attendance of the Republican Presidential candidate in person, Children's day, for which a light opera, "The Pied Piper," is to be given; horse-show day, which promises to bring out more than 200 of the finest examples of horse-breeding in Southern California; and nautical day, to be featured by a banquet to be attended by many of the nation's great aviators, and Western Motor Carriers' Association day, which will bring more than three-score delegates to the annual convention to the exposition.

Presentation of medals to artists whose works have won awards in the palace of fine arts at the 27th inst., according to an announcement made today by Theodore Bodra, director of fine arts for the fair. The ceremony will take place in the open-air theater and will precede a program in which the leading art clubs of Southern California will take part. Roger Noble Burnham, official exposition sculptor, is assisting in preparing the program.

BREAKFAST CLUB PLANS

Sunday morning will be featured by a gathering of members of the Breakfast club of Southern California at the exposition, where a breakfast club of Long Beach will be organized. Approximately thirty prominent citizens of this city have been selected as members of the proposed local club. The initiation will be under direction of the Los Angeles club, with President Maurice Demond in charge. The session will be held at the Ship Cafe, anchored at the north boundary of the exposition grounds.

Laguna Beach day is set for next Monday and will be featured by a special program to be presented by members of the art colony of that community and others. The day also will be the occasion for special programs in honor of visitors from Balboa, Newport and Huntington Beach.

The hearing of the case was held before Superior Judge Falk. Under the questioning of her attorney, Thomas J. Pitts, Mrs. Chagovadava testified she and her husband first met in their native land of Russia. Later their paths crossed at Harbin, China, where they were married on May 23, 1921. Two children were born but they did not live. She left him, she said, on October 1, 1923. Later she came to Los Angeles.

Judge Falk signed the decree.

A romance that had its beginning in Russia and came to full bloom in China went on the rocks here yesterday, when Mrs. Anela Chagovadava obtained a divorce from Crevelutza Chagovadava on the grounds of cruelty, drunkenness, infidelity and nonsupport.

HALF-MILLION DRAWN BY FAIR

Exposition Attendance Total Exceeds Expectations

Check Made at Completion of First Half of Run

Tomorrow Set Aside as Day of Tribute to Hoover

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, Aug. 15.—More than 800,000 persons from every State in the Union, Canada, Mexico and countries overseas have visited the Pacific Southwest Exposition which, at noon today, completed the first half of its thirty-nine-day run.

This was the announcement made here this afternoon by exposition officials, who declared that the total for the first nineteen and one-half days of the big fair exceeded early expectations.

Official check at noon revealed that 508,139 men, women and children had paid their way through the turnstiles at the main gate since the exposition was opened by Gov. Young on July 27, last.

Members of advertising clubs from more than a score of cities of the Pacific Coast participated in Ad Club day today at the fair. The day was dedicated to the advertising men at the California gardens on the show grounds, with a veritable frolic led by Noodles Fagan, vaudeville comedian. He presented several vaudeville artists from Los Angeles. More than 800 advertising men attended.

Today also was designated as Persia day and San Bernardino county day. A special program was presented in the Persia building on the Street of Nations by Dr. Ali Kuli Khan, former ambassador to the United States and to Russia. Dr. Khan is in charge of the Persian exhibit.

COMPTON CELEBRATION

San Bernardino county residents vied with folks from Compton in sharing the day and swelling the total attendance, as did large delegations from Burbank. A real celebration was held by the Comptonites under the joint auspices of the Compton Chamber of Commerce, the Civic Development Association and the Long Beach Boulevard Association. The celebration marked the opening of the newly completed Long Beach Boulevard from Huntington Park to this city and a parade of cars and floats starting at Main street, Compton, at the intersection of the boulevard, and ending at Long Beach, was a feature of the celebration. The Comptonites were formally welcomed to the exposition by Mayor Hays.

Tomorrow will be observed as Atlantic and Gulf States day. Gyro Club day and Girl Reserves' day, and special programs have been completed by the Gyros and the Girl Reserves.

RADIO OFFICIALS DISCUSS WAVES

Short-Length Variety Causes Washington Meeting

Experts Expected to Limit Their Uses

Canada, Mexico and Cuba Send Delegations

By DR. RALPH L. POWER

Radio officials of the United States, Canada, Mexico and Cuba held their initial meeting in Washington yesterday to discuss problems connected with short-wave radio transmission as well as the allocation of channels and the control of short-wave transmission so as to minimize interference difficulty.

A good deal of the discussion is expected to center around the plan of allocation that has been discussed by the Radio Commission, segregating various channels for different specific services, such as communication between airplanes and ground stations, ship and coastal stations, by police departments, railways and other agencies.

It seems probable, also, that the Canadian, Mexican and Cuban delegations will also want to share some channels set aside for specific services and the conference was scheduled with a view to working out a method of allocation among the four countries involved.

Because of the long distance to which short waves carry, it is essential that their allocation be mapped out scientifically so as to avoid the disruption of communication services in adjoining countries.

WIFE WINS ROW AND DECREE

A husband tipping the scales at 125 pounds might well be more than a match for a 275-pound wife. If he is armed with a big fish gaff, Judge Bowron held yesterday. So he concluded that Mrs. Barbara Messenger was well within her wifely rights in pushing Alex Messenger off a pier into the ocean. During her testimony under examination by L. R. Wharton, her attorney, Mrs. Messenger stated that she was "scared to death" of Messenger.

"How big a man is he?" Judge Bowron asked.

"He weighs 125 pounds," Mrs. Messenger said.

"Well, you outweigh him," the court observed.

Mrs. Messenger admitted 275 pounds.

"You've pushed a big fish gaff at me," she submitted. "He would have struck me with it, too, only I pushed him off the pier."

"MAN WHO LAUGHS" IS WELL MADE
Adaptation of Victor Hugo Novel Represents Large Undertaking
BY EDWIN SCHALLERT
Those who would delve into the musty years of the past when men were crueler than death, and apparently enjoyed it, will find no end of hardy sentiment in "The Man Who Laughs," which opened yesterday at the United Artists Theater. Based on the Victor Hugo novel of the same title, and brought to the screen under the direction of Paul Leni, this feature presents no very cheerful panorama to the eye, but at least it is unusual. And if you are in the right sort of mood possibly you will like it. One can hardly class it, however, as the conventional form of pleasurable entertainment.
Doubtless anyone who has read the Hugo book recalls that "The Man Who Laughs" is built about the idea of the inhuman surgical operations performed by wandering bands of gypsies, called the Comprachicos, during the seventeenth century. It was their frequent custom to carve up young children in such a way that their faces were distorted permanently into odd grimaces and expressions. And oftentimes the same children were sold into the traveling shows as clowns, buffoons and other entertainers.
It is a gruesome subject from any angle—but fortunately one is spared the actual details of the human dissection on the screen. Instead one learns the results in the character of Gwynplaine, played by Conrad Veidt, who is under the necessity of covering the lower part of his face to look at all presentable. For his visage is shaped into something resembling a hideous grin, which persists whether he smiles or frowns.
In its screen version "The Man Who Laughs" is the story of the love between Gwynplaine and the blind girl, Esmeralda, played by Mary Philbin. The plot also involves a political intrigue against a usurping Duchess by an offended councillor. The prodigy of the story takes place during the reign of King James II, and the main portion during the reign of Queen Anne in the early eighteenth century. The historical circumstances are of no more than nominal importance, however, because the real plot pertains mostly to the fate of the hero and heroine—the Comprachicos clown and the sightless girl.
Fundamentally, therefore, "The Man Who Laughs" has been put forth as a love story, and as such cannot fail to have certain repellent characteristics. It is difficult to view a man becoming romantic with a child-like, golden-haired heroine and showing much of the while broad denial expense. Even the tragedy by which this distortion of his countenance was brought about is hardly sufficient to generate the proper degree of sympathy.
Admittedly, "The Man Who Laughs" has been well made. It represents a large effort in the matter of sets and people. The crowd in many scenes, particularly those at the Southwark Fair, have been ably handled. There are forceful dramatic scenes for which Clara Bacanova as the Duchess is responsible, and both Conrad Veidt and Mary Philbin give very capable portrayals. Also, in many aspects the romance between them has been very delicately dealt with.
However, pictorially this same romantic idea is possibly deficient. It is very trying to watch the love scenes. There are moments when they tread in that umbrageous and forbidding terrain of the morbid and the unhealthy. The fact that the girl is blind, and does not realize her admirer's disfigurement does not save the situation, for the audience beholds it.
"The Man Who Laughs" is interesting as a departure from the commonplace of film-making, unquestionably there will be obstacles to its general acceptance. It is for that taste which is a trifle sated with familiar appearing things, and seeks after something rather far removed from real human experience. The facts are that it is difficult for the ordinary mortal to put himself in the place of the picture's characters.
Veidt's work throughout is a sensitive and intelligent conflict against fearful physical handicaps. In this respect his portrayal may perhaps class as a feat, even though he is not altogether successful in overcoming the odds that are against him. Miss Philbin is cast in a part that almost overstates sweetness. This is a little unfortunate because she really sets the part quite efficiently.
Bacanova has one of the best opportunities and makes the most of it, with her belated Mexican-like pretense. This woman can convey more evil in a single glance than anyone on the silver-sheet. Josephine Crowell is responsible for a very fine portrait of the queen. Brandon Hurst is an effective intriguer. Cesare Gravina acts effectively as Queen Anne's favorite. There are moments of brilliance in Paul Leni's direction, even though it is not always consistent and his ability to create effects with the camera is marked. Sam De Grasse, as King James, the late George Siegmann and Charles F. Miller as the Duke of York, are also well handled. A short Vitaphone subject with Edward Everett Horton and Lois Wilson is offered. Miss Wilson's voice registers rather advantageously. Horton supplies comedy, but the subject of the sketch is lacking in punch.

Leatrice Joy to Present Cup
Leatrice Joy is to present the cup to the winners of the dance contest at Rocco Arbutic's Plantation Cafe on next Sunday night, the 19th inst. Miss Joy and Edward Everett Horton are to be guests of honor on that night.
Leatrice is by way of being somewhat of a dancer herself, and it is said she should be a good judge of the winning couple's efforts to win the silver trophy.
She is the days appearing in person on the stage of the Vine-street Theater as featured leading woman with Horton's "Clarence." Nightly, packed houses are greeting these two popular stars of stage and screen.

Artists Heard in Movietone
Raquel Meller, famed Spanish singer, is appearing at the Metropolitan Theater on the Fox Movietone, on the new bill starting Friday.
Senorita Meller attained probably more instant recognition than any other concert star. On her first appearance in Los Angeles, two years ago, she played to capacity audiences at the Biltmore, the house being sold out a week in advance at higher prices than have been demanded before or since.
She is said to possess a unique voice, in her melodious delivery, and in her rare Spanish beauty. All of her selections are of a light nature, most of them Spanish and Mexican folk songs. She has made one other Movietone recording, which was claimed by Fox officials to be one of the best received which they ever made.
Another classic artist of stellar name on the new Metropolitan presentation is Karawall, who found with Pavlova, doing his own Russian solo folk dances. He will be seen in the Public review, "Knick Knack."
The screen attraction is "Forgotten Faces" with Clara Bacanova, Mary Philbin, William Powell, Fred Kohler and Hedda Hopper.

"Flirt" Opens at Boulevard
"Florence Vidor's newest starring vehicle, 'The Magnificent Flirt,' opens at the Boulevard Theater tomorrow, marking the opening of Greater Movie Season at the Vermont and Washington house. Film performances for 'United States' are today's event.
"The Magnificent Flirt" is rated as one of Paramount's outstanding productions of the current season. These have been the discussion of the new film prior to its release, and it was especially selected by the Boulevard management to inaugurate the Greater Movie event.
Miss Vidor is said to have one of the most scintillating roles in this ultramodern comedy of Paris. In the title role she displays a lot of excitement—even in thrill-weary Paris—and gets herself and a few others into a muddle and a few situations. Loretta Young and Matt Kemp are introduced in juvenile romance roles.
On the stage, a new edition of the Boulevard revue will have its first showing. Dave Good acts as master of ceremonies for an elaborate stage act, with thirty-five persons in the cast.

SKATE WEDDING TODAY
The Swiss peasants are popularly supposed to yodel on their skates as they skim over the ice-bound lakes at the foot of the mighty Alps. Yodeling and skating, in conjunction of singing, just as Swiss cheese-making is a national industry. In California the cheese is used, but harmony is preferred in the song. Bonnie Lee, who sings on roller skates for a living, will present three vocal skating numbers at the unique wedding on skates, which is set down as tonight's attraction at the Shrine Roller Skating Rink. The management promises a real skating wedding, with bride, groom, best man, clergymen, bridesmaids, choir and congregation, all on skates.

CONCERT ONE OF NOVELTIES
Tonight Henri Verbrughen will offer a "novelty" program as his second concert at the Hollywood Bowl. From all reports he should more than duplicate the thunderous success which greeted his initial concert Tuesday night.
Already the dynamic little Minneapolis conductor is a favorite with Bowl audiences. Those who attend the first to acclaim his spirited wielding of the baton and his audience later took up the praise of his work. The Bowl association wired the Minneapolis Symphony Association that his success was bound to be one of the greatest for the season.
Opening the program is the Handel "Water Music," which has been condensed to its present form by Harry, the distinguished Scotch conductor. This work is one of the English compositions of the noted musician and was instrumental in restoring him to favor with the House of Hanover.
Another work culled from the classics for this evening is the Bach "Prelude and Fugue in E flat major," which has been newly orchestrated by Verbrughen. Known frequently as the St. Anne, the fugue is of a religious trend and has been elaborately orchestrated by the conductor, demanding many instruments albeit they can be interchanged with the present chairs of the orchestra.
A rare name on any program today is that of Schoenberg. His "Radiant Night" will be given for the first time at the Bowl. It has been the singular fate of this composer of "Pierrot Lunaire" that his works have never become a more frequent unit of the programs of this country.
Another pair of novelties is to be given of works from The Netherlands which music interests Verbrughen immensely. These are the "Piet Hein," Dutch rhapsody by Van der Vey and Yae's "Walloon Fantasy."

THEATER TO ESTABLISH PLAY MART
Work of Unknown Playwrights to be Presented; Mrs. A. Barney, Founder
Hollywood is to have a new professional theater called the Theater Mart, dedicated to original plays. Located at Jussita and Clinton, near Vermont, the Theater Mart will present to commercial managers, motion-picture producers and agents original plays, and other forms of dramatic entertainment.
A nonprofit organization—it will act as agent for its dramatic and musical offerings. All surplus is to go into a permanent production fund.
Mrs. Alice Pike Barney, well known in this city and Washington, D. C., is the originator of the Theater Mart idea. She is president of the organization, and Dr. T. F. Pendergast, a well-known theatrical manager, is its secretary.
Mrs. Barney's sympathies are especially with the playwright and the professional actor who find it difficult to come before a public. However, unproduced plays by known authors will be considered. Among those who have submitted plays to the Theater Mart are John Colton, Edmund Goulding, Gladys Unger and Leighton Oumun. Mrs. Barney has underwritten the rent of the theater for one year.
Plans for the first production have been completed. "Sensation," a play by Rita Kassin, has been selected for initial production some time in September. Rita Kassin, formerly a member of the Universal Dramatic Staff, has established herself in Hollywood through her civic and professional activities. She is an officer of the Hollywood Association of Foreign Correspondents HAFCO.

Shrine Has New Type of Sound Device
Introduction of sound effects and synchronization of music with all motion pictures at the Shrine Civic Auditorium Theater will be made today with the opening of Mary Pickford in "My Best Girl." It was announced by George J. Ramsey, manager of the gigantic showhouse.
The Bush synchrophones, a device to cue sound and music to pictures, has been installed at the theater, and was given its final tests in the huge auditorium yesterday. This sound unit is the first of its kind, manufactured under the Bush patents, to be placed in operation in any Los Angeles theater.
All feature pictures will be synchronized with music and effects hereafter at the Shrine. Mr. Ramsey said. The synchronization will be supervised by C. Sharpe Minor, internationally known musician and featured organist at the Shrine.
The music score and effects have been completed for "My Best Girl," which shows for three days beginning today, and have been started on "The Masked Angel," a new picture, and "The Plastic Age," which opens at the Shrine Monday.
Because of the particular attention paid to acoustics in the construction of the huge theater, which is the largest motion-picture house in the world, it will be possible to operate the synchronizing apparatus so that the effects will be audible in all parts of the auditorium, Ramsey said.
Besides the feature picture with the sound and music effects, the new program today includes the Hal Rosch-Stan Laurel comedy, "Do Detectives Think," a news reel, and organ novelties by C. Sharpe Minor.

Child Presides at Premiere
Leon Ramon, who has the juvenile role in "Abie's Irish Rose," and who is now appearing in Fox talking comedies, will be master of ceremonies at the screen kiddies' premiere of "Lilac Time," Saturday afternoon at the Carthy Circle Theater.
This will probably be one of the most beautiful affairs ever staged at the Circle. The most famous children of the screen will be among those present.
"Lilac Time," starring Colleen Moore, is now in the fifth week of its successful engagement and with its accompanying program of Fox talking features: Fox Movietone News; Photophone effects in the big air battles and Carl Ellner's famous orchestra. By special arrangement with the National "Lilac Time" positively will not be shown elsewhere in Southern California during 1928.
BRACEY TO BE "LUKE"
Sydney Bracey, who recently appeared with Buster Keaton in "The Cameraman" and with Marion Davies in "Show Girl," has been assigned the role of "Luke," the comedy relief character in Tim McCoy's new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer vehicle "Blond Blood." Bracey will play a comic cavalier in the new story, a romance of Indian life to be directed by John Waters. The picture will be filmed at Glacier National Park.
DE MILLE STUDIES TALKIES
William De Mille having completed his production of "Craig's Wife," is now making an intensive study of talking pictures under his new agreement with Paramount. De Mille returns to Paramount after an absence of eighteen months, during which time he has been affiliated with the Pathe organization making such productions as "For Alimony Only," "The Little Adventuress," "Tenth Avenue" and "Craig's Wife."
SIGNS AT COLUMBIA
Jacqueline Logan, who did much to make "The Blood Ship" the outstanding success which it was, will soon be back at the Columbia studios once again. According to an announcement by Harry Cohn, vice-president in charge of production at Columbia, Miss Logan has been signed to play the lead in "Driftwood," a story by the late Richard Harding Davis. Christy Cabanne, one of the oldest directors in the business in point of experience, will direct Miss Logan.

HEALTH DIET ADVICE

Dr. McCoy will answer personal questions on health and diet, addressed to him, care of The Los Angeles Times. Inquiries should be addressed to the editor.

CHERRIES AND MILK

A few days ago, in one of my weekly menus, I suggested for lunch a combination of cherries and milk without the addition of any other food. A veritable small avalanche of letters arrived subsequently from all over the country. Here is a sample letter:

"Dear Dr. McCoy: I am surprised that a man of your great learning should be so ignorant about food combinations as to combine cherries and milk. Don't you know this forms a deadly poison? I wonder how many people have died as a result of this menu which you published. I hope you will correct this statement as soon as possible. Except for this combination, which must be an error of your stenographer, we have found your articles very instructive and helpful. Kindly explain why this appeared in the paper."

MRS. M. B. C. This statement, which appeared in the newspaper, was not an error of my stenographer. It was purposely placed there to offset the popular superstition that cherries and milk form a bad combination. Anyone who believes that cherries and milk, when combined, form a poison should be told that he knows very little on the subject of food combinations.

Milk and acid fruit make a very desirable mixture, principally from the fact that the acid of the fruit helps to curdle the milk, and this milk-fruit combination can therefore be digested with greater ease than sweet milk taken by itself. Curdling of milk must take place as the first process of digestion. This is usually done by the gastric juices of the stomach which break the milk into curds, but these curds are often too large for quick digestion. Whereas fruit, taken at the same time with the milk, breaks the latter up into very small curds so that the digestive juices of the stomach can work more readily.

The simplest study of physiological chemistry will explain this action, but most people apparently do not make such a study until they really become sick and are forced by the driving power of necessity to investigate the laws of digestion.

Many people who combine milk and fruit also add bread or cereals. When they feel bad as a result they blame the fruit and milk, whereas the real fault lies in the combination of the acid fruit and the starch of the cereal food.

As I have explained many times in these columns, the use of an acid fruit with bread or any starchy food will slow down its digestion and is apt to produce fermentation in the intestines. The layman can perhaps be excused for not understanding much about food combinations, but what about the physician or the health writer who is so indifferent he will not investigate these simple facts? The other day a health writer whose column is being read in many parts of the country attacked my ideas by stating that food combinations were "the bunk." How in the name of reason can a man who claims to be a writer on health subjects make such an insane statement? The proven rules about the digestion of food may be observed, not only in the laboratory, but also in the stomach and intestines of living human beings. The business of the dietitian is to learn these laws and to teach them to his student patients. That health writer would do well if he wrote in to this newspaper for my article on food combinations.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Question: Mrs. Brown writes: "Will you kindly explain in plain language the cause of shingles, the symptoms, and if there is a cure?" Answer: The name "shingles" is the distortion of the Greek word for "deposit of toxic substances along certain nerve trunks. It always occurs on one side of the body at a time, and is more frequently found on the upper back or around the ribs on one side. The nerves are inflamed by the toxins, and the skin breaks out in a rash wherever the irritation exists. The cure is through diet, and no local treatments are very effective. A fast taken at the onset of the disorder will hasten the cure, but even without this treatment it often takes a week or ten days for the eruption to disappear.

Q: Mrs. Ed A. writes: "I received the information from the by the by-the-sea shore or in the mountains, as long as he pays strict attention to diet and exercise?" A: I strongly believe that one can live so that the climate does not adversely affect his health. You must understand your food requirements wherever you live, and balance your diet accordingly.

Boy and Girl Hurt by Auto

Mary and Louis Vent, whose ages are 5 and 6 years, respectively, are lying seriously injured at the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital with little hope extended for the girls' life, as the result of an accident which took place in front of 86 Georgia-street last night.

The girl was treated at the Georgia-street hospital for a fractured skull and internal injuries, while Louis received a possible skull fracture and many lacerations. They are the children of Mariano Vent, of 2023 1/2 Oak street.

MOONSHINE GANG FADES OUT IN DARK

Officers Discover Rum Plants Uninhabited in Night Raid on Valley

Some one must have told. Because, when Acting Captain of Detectives Lucas and the various members of his gun squad slipped over Calhoun Pass to "clean up" San Fernando Valley during the dark hours of early morning yesterday they found only empty mash barrels and parts of dismantled stills, they reported.

Information was given to the squad that a number of stills were going full blast in the sunlit valley beyond the Hollywood hills. Addresses were obtained and, with shotguns, rifles and revolvers well oiled, the raid started shortly after midnight.

The first stop was made at Bel Air Boulevard and Vanowen Way. Here, in a vacant house, the officers reported finding a dismantled fifty-gallon still and fifty gallons of liquor. But no one was around and there was evidence that the operators of it still had made a hasty departure.

The same conditions were found to exist in a vacant ranch house in the 1800 block on Bel Air Boulevard and in the 12000 block on Sherman Way, Lucas reported. At the former 150 barrels which had contained mash were found, with part of a large still. At the latter 200 empty barrels and parts of an other still were discovered.

INSECTS BORING IN CITY HALL PERIL IT--THAT IS IN REPLICA

Insects are eating away the foundations of the City Hall and the tower is beginning to tilt toward the west, with a list like the famous leaning tower of Pisa, according to an investigation by visitors at the new municipal building yesterday.

But it is not the City Hall paid for by taxpayers. That structure promises to make Father Time show his age. It is the replica of the new City Hall manufactured by George Wong, Chinaman, and carried on a float at the dedication of the municipal structure last spring.

Wong's sugar-and-egg building has been on exhibition for months on the Spring-street floor of the City Hall and has been inspected with great interest by hundreds of thousands viewing the greater structure.

Warm weather has affected the sugar City Hall and the insects feeding on Wong's structure are beginning to undermine it, so that its days are numbered.

Hawaiian Flight Winner Makes Entry for Three Stellar Events

Latest of the world-famed flyers to enter, Art Goebel, hero of the Dole flight to Hawaii, will compete in at least two events of the National Air Races here September 3 at Mines Field.

Entry blanks were filed by Goebel yesterday in the New York-to-Los Angeles nonstop derby, the free-for-all event, and the free-for-all Detroit News air transport trophy.

The Dole-flight winner will pilot a Lockheed Vega airplane powered with a 435-horsepower Wasp motor. Harry J. Tucker of Santa Monica, his sponsor and owner of the ship, will fly with him.

In the contest for the Detroit News trophy Goebel will be required to carry a contest load of 1000 pounds at a minimum speed of slightly miles an hour around the pylons at Mines Field. Speed and efficiency will be the basis of competition.

POLICE TO DINE MERCHANTS

Chain-Store Managers to Attend Meeting on Rifle Range for Discussion of Crime Problem

Closer co-operation with the police department in the curtailment of robberies and burglaries will be sought today from the various large chain-store aggregations in this city when district managers of these organizations will be the guests of Chief of Police Davis at a luncheon and meeting at the pistol range in Elysian Park.

Experts in police training, detective work, juvenile crime problems, and law enforcement have been selected to speak to the managers of the hundreds of chain stores which, due to crime conditions which will be discussed, have fallen prey to the burglar and bandit.

Dell A. Swetlar, president of the police commission will preside. Among the speakers will be Superior Judge Fricke, who will talk of robbery, burglary, and bogus checks as viewed from the "bench." Inspector of Detectives Philanson who will treat the same subject from the police angle; Warren Prescott, county probation officer, who will talk of the juvenile burglar and bandit on probation; J. E. Lewis, State parole officer for Southern California, who will speak of the same type of criminal of adult age on parole; Police Sergeant Barlow is scheduled to explain the methods of convicting criminals with fingerprints, and Chief Davis will close the program with a general summary of methods by which citizens and police can co-operate to solve the crime problem.

Pharmacy Tests Passed by 111

The California State Board of Pharmacy, through Louis Zeh, secretary, announces that thirty-eight persons were granted registration as licensed pharmacists and seventy-three as assistants at the recent examinations held in Los Angeles and San Francisco.

The next examinations will be held in Los Angeles commencing October 3 and in San Francisco beginning October 18. No application for examination will be accepted for the October test after September 31.

DIX PAYS AUTO FINE

Film Actor Accused of High Speed Through Twenty-Mile Zone

A $5 fine imposed by Municipal Judge McWay on Richard Dix, film actor, was paid in traffic court yesterday by his attorney, Dix, whose address is given as 1797 Stanley avenue, Hollywood, was arrested by Police Officer Hook at 2:30 p.m. on July 4 and charged with driving his automobile at a rate of thirty-eight miles an hour on Vine street in a twenty-mile zone.

EXPERT ON SANITY TRAVELS DISGUISED

JAPANESE SURVEYOR OF MENTAL DISEASES HAS FEAR OF ROBBERY

Disguised as a Japanese laborer, Dr. D. Yomogita, M.D., Ph.D., graduate of the University of Chicago, arrived here last night to make investigations into Japanese mental cases in local hospitals, and to carry on the survey of American treatment of mental disorders which he says he is making officially for the Japanese government.

The disguise, Dr. Yomogita said, is worn by him to prevent being robbed, this having occurred three times in his travels throughout the United States. He carries a small amount of change in his purse. A money belt conceals the funds needed for traveling.

Dr. Yomogita is armed with a sheaf of letters from officials in Washington and the State Board of Health. He has carried on his investigations for four years, following two years as an interne in the Chicago Psychopathic Hospital.

Boy and Girl Hurt by Auto

Mary and Louis Vent, whose ages are 5 and 6 years, respectively, are lying seriously injured at the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital with little hope extended for the girls' life, as the result of an accident which took place in front of 86 Georgia-street last night.

LABOR-SAVER Under Arrest

Albert C. Bowman, temporary mail clerk at Asusa, grew weary of picking pounds and pounds of superfluous direct-mail ads about, so thinking he would benefit the people he served, as well as himself, he proceeded to dump them in various vacant lots.

Unfortunately he was observed, arrested, and appeared before United States Commissioner Rice yesterday on a charge of destroying third-class matter. He was released on his own recognizance.

FRAUDULENT POSE AS OFFICER CHARGED

A complaint charging Wiley H. Potter Jr., with impersonating a first lieutenant of marines was filed in Federal court yesterday by the United States District Attorney's office. Potter already is in jail, and under indictment for an asserted forgery of a government obligation. According to the complaint, Potter impersonated a marine lieutenant in New Orleans and defrauded a merchant there out of $83 through fictitious checks.

SUIT TO GET SALARY WON BY ACTRESS

Dorothy Devore 'Granted Pay for Part She Never Got Chance to Play

Dorothy Devore, film actress, did not play the role of Kitty in the picture, "The Little Girl God Forgot," made by the Krellberg Pictures Corporation of New York, but she will be paid $1750 just the same as if she worked in it and played the part. This was the ruling yesterday of Superior Judge of Probation following Miss Devore's testimony to the effect that the company signed a contract with her to play the part, but that the company failed to call her. Her pay, she asserted, corroborated by the contract introduced as evidence, was to have been $1750. "I was never called by the Krellberg company to carry out the contract," Miss Devore declared. The Krellberg Pictures Corporation did not contest the action and Miss Devore was the only witness.

NEW SHIP LINE for Southland to be Planned

Four representatives of the Messageries Maritimes, the second largest steamship company under the French flag, will arrive here tomorrow for the purpose of establishing an eastbound round-the-world tour with Los Angeles as a port of call.

This information was given out yesterday afternoon by Howard H. Adams, general agent of the French Line in Los Angeles who is arranging the welcoming of the guests at a luncheon to be at the Biltmore at noon tomorrow.

Mr. Adams estimated that the French Line and the Messageries Maritimes are to be consolidated under one management.

"Maritime history of the French nation is to be made right here in Los Angeles," he said yesterday afternoon. "The innovation of the eastbound tour will be epochal for the reason that it will constitute the first east-bound round-the-world tour that ever has been established from the port of Los Angeles. Our guests will be E. Gaudard, R. Mathieu, L. Pichet and R. Nicolle, all of Paris and each representing the Messageries Maritimes."

WOMEN AND GIRLS 'LOST' ON OUTING

Sheriffs of Two Counties
Seek Whereabouts of Four
Disappearing in Hills

Investigation into the disappearance of two women and their two young daughters somewhere on the road between Big Pine Camp in the San Bernardino Mountains and Los Angeles was started yesterday, according to records in the Sheriff's offices of Los Angeles and San Bernardino.

The two women, Mrs. J. P. Hamilton of 516 North Marietta avenue, and Mrs. Vera Glanville and the former's daughters, Virginia, 10 years of age, and Katherine, 8 years of age, were vacationing at the Big Pine resort, since July 6, according to local Sheriff's office attaches. They are thought to have left for home at noon on the 9th inst.

Since that time Hamilton reported he has not heard from his wife and appealed to the Sheriff's office last Tuesday to aid him in searching for them. He told the investigating officers that he made two trips to the resorts without finding a trace of the party.

A check of the camp register last night revealed that none of the party had registered there this summer. Officers believe the women and children are vacationing in another camp and that Hamilton is worriedly unduly over the asserted disappearance.

The conviction of Mike Garvey, Harvey Lesh and Phil Rohan on charges of murdering A. R. Miles, who was found injured fatally in his drug store at the intersection of Fourth and Jefferson streets on the night of November 1, 1927, was sustained yesterday by Appellate Court Justice Thompson.

In their appeal to the higher court the accused maintained that the circumstantial evidence on which they were convicted was insufficient to support the verdict and the trial court erred in giving instructions to the jury. Justice Thompson ruled that the evidence was sufficient to sustain the judgment and there were no errors in the conduct of the trial. He also sustained the conviction of the three men on a burglary count.

All of the defendants have been sentenced to life imprisonment in San Quentin.

Twelve people trapped in a bulky elevator in the Music Arts Building at 233 South Broadway last night were released from their unexpected prison after a two-hour wait, and none the worse for the vexatious experience.

Something went wrong with the passenger carrier between the first and second floors shortly after 9 p.m. Efforts failed to unlock the elevator and passers-by called the fire department. By working two hours, removing enough of the trimmings on one side to allow the passengers to squeeze through and the use of a step-ladder, the firemen opened the path to safety. The cause of the trouble was not discovered.

ATTORNEYS ARGUE NOTE SALES CASE

Demurrer Filed for Leach and Dozen Others Named in Felony Counts

Martin A. Leach, Los Angeles promoter, and twelve other defendants charged with more than thirty felonies arising out of the sale of mortgage notes, asserted to be worthless, fought the first round of their fight against prosecution in Superior Judge Edmonds' court yesterday morning. Their attorneys argued a demurrer charging that the indictment naming the defendants is ambiguous and not specific enough to justify a trial. After argument the matter was submitted and Judge Edmonds will give his decision tomorrow.

The defendants were represented by eight attorneys, while the prosecution was in charge of Dep. Dist. Atty. McCartney and Vernon S. Gray, Deputy Commissioner of Corporations.

Leach is accused of issuing mortgage notes of questionable value on San Diego county real estate and placing them in the hands of salesmen to exchange for "gilt-edged" securities.

The defendants named in the indictment, according to the court records, are: Martin A. Leach, Gail K. Ingles, Ruby B. Moyer, Archie W. Murray, W. F. Murray, P. Hughes, George B. Crane, Frank Hurlbert, John A. Griffin, Ford R. Leach, Clarence Birney, George Wilson and J. W. Seppington.

Woman's Death From Operation Brings Inquest

An inquest into the death of Mrs. Charlotte Ricks of 1720 South Harvard Boulevard, who died Tuesday following an asserted illegal operation, will be conducted at 3 p.m. today. Louis Von Frohner, who operates massage parlors at 1066 South Grand avenue, is being held on a suspicion of murder charge in connection with the death.

Mrs. Ricks was taken to the Southern California medical center for a tracheotomy and died there. It was pointed out, and received and cared for there in an effort to save her life. Von Frohner was unknown at the hospital and the sole purpose in receiving the woman was to make a fight to her life.

Von Frohner was taken before Mrs. Ricks a few hours before she died and was identified by her as the person who performed the operation, according to Detective Lieutenants Jones and James, who arrested Von Frohner on information from Ricks' physician.

Von Frohner denied that he had ever seen Mrs. Ricks and that he had performed the operation.

Louis Biescar Found Guilty in Statutory Case

A verdict of guilty was returned by a jury of four men and eight women in Superior Judge Craig's court last night in the case of Louis Biescar, 30 years of age, 4413 San Antonio street, who was charged with a statutory offense against a young girl.

Biescar is the son of a wealthy parent and his second wife is a French girl. He was charged with a statutory offense against a young girl.

The allegations against Biescar were that he had seduced a young girl, 18, of 4049 Somers avenue, to his house on May 28, last, and there "doped" a drink he gave her, later attacking and beating her.

Abandonment of Street Work to Cost $370

Property owners on City View avenue from St. Louis street to Britannia street, Hollenbeck Heights, were very much shocked at yesterday's meeting of the City Council when they were told that it will cost the property owners $370 for the privilege of changing their street names.

The property owners filed a petition with the City Council, which was granted, and the engineering and legal departments started at work on plans and proposals for the change.

The City's expense caused by the change of the original petition asking for the work has been $370. The Council said yesterday that if the property owners will pass the hat and raise this amount and pay it before September 10 the proceedings will be abandoned.

At present the Los Angeles organization has its resignation before the national body. It position of "economy" in the operation of the national organization, together with a definite stand on a change in the existing dues requirements, recently created a stir at the national convention held at San Antonio.

Grand Jury Hears Case of Wickersham and McEniry
While Detectives Search for "Gold Mine"

While the grand jury yesterday heard from Mrs. Frank E. Neumann just how Sam Wickersham, self-styled "man of millions," and James McEniry, former banker, managed to obtain about $120,000 of her personal fortune, detectives searched the Glendale hills for Wickersham's "million dollar" gold mine and for the second time failed to find any trace of the workings.

Mrs. Neumann, together with Mrs. Frances Fay, her daughter, and a Pasadena broker, were the only witnesses called before the grand jury by Chief Dep. Dist. Atty. Murray yesterday morning. A number of other witnesses will be heard and then that body will vote on indictments.

The grand jury was taken into custody a week ago on charges of grand theft sworn to by Mrs. Neumann, are still in the County Jail, having been unable to raise the $50,000 bail bond set in each case.

Mrs. Neumann and Mrs. Fay are believed to have told the grand jury how Wickersham convinced them that he owned a huge gold mine, was about to start a lens factory, and had other holdings valued at millions, and there-by induced them to lend him large sums of money.
